Handbook of Research on Globalization, Investment, and Growth-Implications of Confidence and Governance

Part of the Advances in Finance, Accounting, and Economics (AFAE) Book Series

Ramesh Chandra Das (Katwa College, University of Burdwan, India)

Description:

The global economic crises of recent years have offered some sobering lessons, compelling economists, political scientists, and policymakers to reconsider traditional theories regarding the cultivation of developing nations.

The Handbook of Research on Globalization, Investment, and Growth-Implications of Confidence and Governance seeks to empirically explore the relationship between a number of variables, including consumer confidence, private-sector performance, and governmental regulation.

Readers:

This book seeks to categorize and analyze developing economies in a post-crisis global financial landscape in order to help shape desperately-needed policies capable of safeguarding against potential catastrophe.

Topics Covered:

- Consumer Confidence
- Developing Economies
- Financial Regulation
- Global Economies
- Global Financial Crisis
- International Finance
- Investment in Emerging Markets
