Funding Challenges and Successes in Arts Education

Part of the Advances in Educational Marketing, Administration, and Leadership Book Series

Siu Challons-Lipton (Queens University of Charlotte, USA) and Richard Emanuel (Alabama State University, USA)

Description:

The arts and humanities are considered to be a core academic subject under federal law. This designation grants these education programs the right to federal funds; however, budget propositions do not allot the arts sufficient financial resources.

Funding Challenges and Successes in Arts Education is a timely research publication featuring the most recent scholarly information on fiscal changes that support the financing of the humanities in national and international education. Including extensive coverage on a number of topics and perspectives such as strategic planning, school reform, and teacher training, this book is ideally designed for academicians, researchers, teachers, and administrators seeking current research on innovative ways to fund the arts.

Topics Covered:

- Community Partnerships
- Creative Literacy
- School Reform
- Strategic Planning
- Teacher Training
- Technology Programs
- Urban Education
