Recent Developments in the Design, Construction, and Evaluation of Digital Libraries: Case Studies

Colleen Cool (Graduate School of Library and Information Studies, Queens College, USA) and Kwong Bor Ng (Queens College, CUNY, USA)

It is no secret that the world of libraries has rapidly evolved into an environment which will quickly be largely digitized. However, this digital shift has brought with it a unique set of challenges and issues for scholars and librarians to handle.

Recent Developments in the Design, Construction and Evaluation of Digital Libraries not only addresses the challenges with digital libraries, but it also describes the recent developments in the design, construction, and evaluation of these libraries in various environments. This leading publication compiles research from a wide array of specialists into a unified and comprehensive manner. Librarians, researchers, scholars, and professionals in this field will find the reference source beneficial in order to deepen their understanding of this continually growing field.
