Handbook of Research on Transformative Online Education and Liberation: Models for Social Equality

Gulsun Kurubacak (Anadolu University, Turkey) and T. Volkan Yuzer (Anadolu University, Turkey)

Online education has the potential to utilize cutting-edge technologies in order to bring together learners, e-facilitators, and e-contents.

The Handbook of Research on Transformative Online Education and Liberation: Models for Social Equality discusses the potential for transformative models to liberate online education. With a focus on the societal, social, political, economic, and philosophical perspectives of transformative models, this handbook examines how digital learning communities foster critical reflections and prospective change, particularly within virtual groups. This scrutiny of transformative models serves to educate faculty, administrators, professionals, researchers, community activists, and parents on the injustices that challenge digital societies.

Topics Covered:
- 3D Multi-User Virtual Worlds
- Building Global Citizens
- Disparities in Healthcare and Education
- E-Governance and Democracy
- Fostering Relationships in Virtual Learning Communities
- Liberation and Social Equality in Transformative Online Education
- Multicultural Education 2.0
- Transformative Multicultural Engagement
- Transformative Polymorphic Model
- Using ICT to Develop a Bi-national Education Research Community
