New Media and Communication Across Religions and Cultures

Part of the Advances in Religious and Cultural Studies Book Series

Isaac Nahon-Serfaty (University of Ottawa, Canada) and Rukhsana Ahmed (University of Ottawa, Canada)

The connection of interfaith and intercultural understanding stems from a conceptual foundation on the dialogue between religions and cultures. These types of conversation are essential for the clarification and reflection of practical opportunities and challenges that these exchanges are facing.

New Media and Communication Across Religions and Cultures offers a unique opportunity in both the social sciences, humanities, and communication fields to provide concrete concepts and notions in the areas of interreligious and inter-cultural dialogue. By exploring this empirical research of relevant experiences, this book is important for researchers, practitioners, and students in varied fields of philosophy, sociology, cultural studies, media students, law, and more.

Topics Covered:

- Intercultural Communication
- Comparative Law and Religious Diversity
- Media and Religion
- Multicultural/Intercultural Communication
- Multiculturalism in Canada
- Philosophical Foundations of Interfaith Dialogue
- Public Relations and Religion Communication
