Handbook of Research on Trends in European Higher Education Convergence

Part of the Advances in Higher Education and Professional Development Book Series

Alina Mihaela Dima
(Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania)

With an increase in global competition among universities and national higher education systems, educational programs desire to offer compatible content without losing their competitive advantage. Because of this balance, the issue of convergence, along with its benefits and limits, has emerged.

Handbook of Research on Trends in European Higher Education Convergence aims to identify the indicators that meet the consensus of the academic community and higher education management experts. Analyzing the recognized trends within the publication and concluding which measures should be taken to improve convergence pace and avoid potential pitfalls; this reference book is a useful resource for academics and students, as well as specialists, policy makers, and professionals connected with the educational sector.

Topics Covered:
- Convergence Analysis
- Economic Convergence Process
- Educational Transition
- Higher Education Convergence
- Methodological Approach
- Qualitative Research
- Quantitative Methods
