The Future of Accessibility in International Higher Education

Part of the Advances in Educational Marketing, Administration, and Leadership Book Series

Henry C. Alphin Jr. (Drexel University, USA), Roy Y. Chan (Indiana University, USA) and Jennie Lavine (University of Hull, UK)

Description:

Education is the foundation to almost all successful lives, and it is important that a high level of schooling be available on a global scale. Studying the trends in accessibility in education will allow educators to improve their own teaching techniques, as well as expand their influence to more remote areas in the world.

The Future of Accessibility in International Higher Education is a comprehensive reference source for the latest scholarly material on emerging methods and trends in disseminating knowledge in university settings. Featuring extensive coverage on relevant topics such as e-learning, economic perspectives, and educational technology, this publication is ideally designed for educators, academics, students, and researchers interested in expanding their knowledge of global education.
