Table of Contents

Foreword .............................................................................................................................................. xiv

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xvi

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................... xxx

Section 1
Education, Computers, and Gaming
  Profile 1: Carrie Warwick
  Profile 1: Carrie Warwick
  Profile 2: Elinor Townsend
  Profile 3: Anna Ljungberg
  Profile 4: Jo Daly

Chapter 1
From the “Damsel in Distress” to Girls’ Games and Beyond: Gender and Children’s Gaming......... 1
  Alyson E. King, University of Ontario, Canada
  Aziz Douai, University of Ontario, Canada

Chapter 2
Women and Men in Computer Science: The Role of Gaming in their Educational Goals.............. 18
  Jill Denner, Education, Training, Research, USA
  Eloy Ortiz, Education, Training, Research, USA
  Linda Werner, University of California, Santa Cruz, USA

Chapter 3
The Only Girl in the Class! Female Students’ Experiences of Gaming Courses and Views of the Industry ............................................................................................................................................. 36
  Lauren Elliott, University of Bolton, UK
  Julie Prescott, University of Bolton, UK
Section 2
The Experience of Women Working in the Computer Games Industry: An International Perspective
Profile 5: Fiona Cherbak
Profile 5: Fiona Cherbak
Profile 6: Sheri Graner Ray
Profile 7: Lindsey “Lindz” Williamson Christy
Profile 8: Julie McGurren
Profile 9: Althea Deane
Profile 10: Dianne Botham
Profile 11: Joy Dey
Profile 12: Hannah Payne

Chapter 4
A Look inside the Current Climate of the Video Game Industry ........................................ 82
Vachon M.C. Pugh, Electronic Arts, USA

Chapter 5
The Experiences of Women Working in the Computer Games Industry: An In-Depth Qualitative Study ................................................................................................................ 92
Julie Prescott, University of Bolton, UK
Jan Bogg, University of Liverpool, UK

Chapter 6
Career Development among Japanese Female Game Developers: Perspective from Life Stories of Creative Professionals ................................................................. 110
Masahito Fujihara, Senshu University, Japan

Chapter 7
Women’s Participation in the Australian Digital Content Industry .................................... 125
Anitza Geneve, Southbank Institute of Technology, Australia

Section 3
Future Outlook
Profile 13: Sabine Hahn
Profile 13: Sabine Hahn
Profile 14: Elizabeth Richardson
Profile 15: Faye Windsor-Smith
Profile 16: Phil Goddard

Chapter 8
Professional Socialization in STEM Academia and its Gendered Impact on Creativity and Innovation .................................................................................................................. 156
Gloria-Sophia Warnuth, Vienna University of Economics and Business, Vienna
Edeltraud Hanappi-Egger, Vienna University of Economics and Business, Vienna
Chapter 9
Lessons from the STEM Sector .............................................................. 175
  Vachon M.C. Pugh, Electronic Arts, USA

Chapter 10
A Framework for Addressing Gender Imbalance in the Game Industry through Outreach .......... 186
  Monica M. McGill, Bradley University, USA
  Adrienne Decker, Rochester Institute of Technology, USA
  Amber Settle, DePaul University, USA

Chapter 11
Female Game Workers: Career Development, and Aspirations .................................................. 206
  Julie Prescott, University of Bolton, UK
  Jan Bogg, University of Liverpool, UK

Final Thoughts and Concluding Comments ................................................................................. 223

Related References ...................................................................................................................... 256

Compilation of References .......................................................................................................... 284

About the Contributors .................................................................................................................. 306

Index ............................................................................................................................................. 310