Acknowledgments

The task of editing a book cannot be accomplished without great help and support from many sources. The editors would like to acknowledge the help of all involved in the production of this book. It is very difficult to evaluate whose help was the most valuable. Actually, the lack of help from those mentioned here would have made this project nearly impossible.

First, this book would not have been possible without the ongoing professional support of Idea Group Inc. We are most grateful to Mehdi Khosrow-Pour, Senior Acquisitions Editor, Jan Travers, Managing Director, Amanda Appicello, Senior Managing Editor, and Michele Rossi, Development Editor, for their professional and experiential guidance.

Special thanks go also to the staff at Idea Group Inc. Their contributions throughout the process of making this book available to an international audience are invaluable.

We are grateful to all of the authors, who simultaneously served as referees. We value their insights, contributions, prompt collaboration, and constructive comments. The communication and exchange of views within this truly global group of recognized individuals in the scientific domain were enriching and proved an exciting experience for us, the editors. We wish to thank all of the authors for their insights and excellent contributions to this book, which are, in fact, the raison d’être of the book.

A special thank you to our institutions, the University of Minho, Braga, and Polytechnic Institute of Cávado and Ave, Barcelos, in Portugal, for providing the material resources and all necessary logistics.

Warm thanks to Adamantios Koumpis, from Research Programmes Division of ALTEC, SA, Thessaloniki, Greece, for his support, encouragement, and, of course, friendship.

Thank you,

The Editors,
Goran D. Putnik & Maria Manuela Cunha
Guimarães, July 2004