Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xix

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................ xxv

Section 1
Introduction

Chapter 1
Green School Frameworks .................................................................................................................. 1
   Anisa Baldwin Metzger, The Center for Green Schools at the U.S. Green Building Council®, USA

Chapter 2
The Green Schooling of America: Emerging Research on Student Learning .............................. 15
   John C. Fischetti, University of Newcastle, Australia
   Dana L. Fischetti, University of Newcastle, Australia

Chapter 3
Green School Characteristics, Sustainability, and Student Learning ........................................... 25
   C. Kenneth Tanner, University of Georgia, USA

Chapter 4
Research on Green Schools and Student Performance ................................................................. 38
   Glen I. Earthman, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, USA

Section 2
The Green School Structure

Chapter 5
Enhancing Building Performance and Environmental Learning: A Case Study of Virginia Beach
City Public Schools ......................................................................................................................... 54
   Shannon M. Chance, Hampton University, USA
   J. Timothy Cole, Virginia Beach City Public Schools, USA
Chapter 6
An Ecological Originated Design in Education Structures: A Case Study of an Education Campus in Adana, Turkey
Ayşe Sirel, Istanbul Aydin University, Turkey
Gökçen Firdevs Yücel, Istanbul Aydin University, Turkey

Chapter 7
Green Technology for Green Schools
Howard C. Woodard, Georgia College and State University, USA
Robert L. Orr, Georgia College and State University, USA

Chapter 8
The Places Where Children Play
Linda K. Lemasters, The George Washington University, USA
Andrew W. Greve, Mathews County Public Schools, USA

Chapter 9
Environmental Considerations of Green School Grounds
W. Cory Gallo, Mississippi State University, USA
Michael W. Seymour, Mississippi State University, USA

Section 3
Green School and the Instructional Process

Chapter 10
Green School Principals: Making the Connection among Student Achievement, Healthy School Environments, and Project-Based Learning
Pamela A. Lemoine, University of Louisiana – Lafayette, USA
Evan G. Mense, Southeastern Louisiana University, USA
Michael D. Richardson, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 11
Green Schools as Teaching Tools
Charles F. Carrick, Lee University, USA
Douglas B. Caywood, The Lewis Group Architects, USA

Chapter 12
The School Walls Teach: Student Involvement in the Green School
Thomas DeVere Wolsey, University of Central Florida, USA

Chapter 13
“Green” Teaching and Learning in Schools
Jack Blendinger, Mississippi State University, USA
Leigh Ann Hailey, Louisville Municipal School District, USA
Donna Shea, Mississippi State University, USA
Chapter 14
Toward a Green Curriculum: Transforming the Schoolhouse and Classroom ............................. 194
Dawn Putney, University of West Georgia, USA
Robert C. Morris, University of West Georgia, USA
Peter R. Sargent, Asuncion Christian Academy, Paraguay

Chapter 15
Using Environment-Based Education to Transform the School Campus ..................................... 211
Deirdre C. Greer, Columbus State University, USA
Pam Wetherington, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 16
Cyberlearning in Green Schools: Instruction to the Maximum ....................................................... 221
Pamela A. Lemoine, Columbus State University, USA
Michael D. Richardson, Columbus State University, USA
Thomas J. McCormack, Columbus State University, USA

Section 4
Issues in Green School Leadership

Chapter 17
Green School Leadership: What Does It Really Mean? ................................................................. 232
Tak C. Chan, Kennesaw State University, USA
Robin Saunders, Kennesaw State University, USA
Laura Lashley, Kennesaw State University, USA

Chapter 18
The Green School: A Superintendent’s Perspective ................................................................. 243
Maggie Shook, Thomaston-Upson Schools, USA
Michael D. Richardson, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 19
PPBES: How One School District Goes Green ........................................................................... 258
Daphne Griffin, Cobb County School District, USA
Tak C. Chan, Kennesaw State University, USA

Chapter 20
Legal Issues for Green Schools ................................................................................................... 267
Robert Waller, North Georgia College and State University, USA
Elaine M. Artman, Mercer University, USA
Section 5
Green School Finance and Operations

Chapter 21
Green School Financing: Sustainability in a Time of Economic Challenge .............................................. 282
Kenneth E. Lane, Southeastern Louisiana University, USA
Suzanne Harris, Southeastern Louisiana University, USA
Evan G. Mense, Southeastern Louisiana University, USA

Chapter 22
Cost Analysis of Green School Initiatives .................................................................................................. 291
Thomas J. McCormack, Columbus State University, USA
Pamela Lemoine, Columbus State University, USA
Deirdre Greer, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 23
Return on Investment: Are Green Schools Worth the Cost? ................................................................. 302
Pamela A. Lemoine, Columbus State University, USA
Howard C. Woodard, Georgia College and State University, USA
Michael D. Richardson, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 24
Benefits Derived from the Green School Movement .............................................................................. 309
Robert Waller, North Georgia College and State University, USA

Chapter 25
School Safety and Green Schools ............................................................................................................ 319
Robert Waller, North Georgia College and State University, USA

Section 6
Looking Ahead of Green Schools

Chapter 26
Integrating Sustainability into School Practices: A Model of Developing Green Schools .................. 330
Ting Wang, Huzhou University, China

Chapter 27
The Future of Green Schools .................................................................................................................. 342
Rachel Gutter, The Center for Green Schools at the U.S. Green Building Council®, USA

Compilation of References ..................................................................................................................... 350

About the Contributors .......................................................................................................................... 388

Index ....................................................................................................................................................... 397