We would like to thank our contributing authors, who made the book what it is – our foreword-writer, Edward Buckingham; another China-based colleague, Andy Goldstein; our friend and adviser in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, Ms. Uyen Nguyen; and the ever-smiling Mr. Tobgay in the land of happiness, Bhutan. Our friends and contacts in the Middle East played a very important part in adding to the value and richness of the book – Mr. Hafizullah Safi and Mr. Noor Ali, from Afghanistan; Ms. Taghreed Badawoud, Mr. Mohamed Mustafa Saad, and Ms. Riham Moawad in Cairo, Egypt; Mr. Thomas C. Jackson, with his experience of North Africa and the Mediterranean area; and Mr. Amir Reza Ghaem, in Tehran, Iran. They all gave selflessly of their time and effort to keep in touch with us over several months, through making many versions of their cases after many rounds of reviews and corrections.

Our Editorial Board members were amazingly helpful. Professor Jonathan Gosling continues to be the guru on leadership in all the manifestations of the subject. Riham Moawad, who helped co-author one of the cases, also read and reviewed several others. David Weller has been relied upon for many years for his editorial input. David Dingli is a close colleague and friend with almost as much international experience as the book editors!

We would also like to thank Ms. Hayley Kang and Mr. Austin Demarco of IGI Global for being so understanding during the personal and professional challenges we faced during the sourcing, editing, and writing of this book.

Last but not least, we are eternally grateful for the tolerance and support of our loved ones. They know who they are.

Stephanie Jones
Maastricht School of Management, The Netherlands

Sheena Graham
Graham Reid Associates, Hong Kong