Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xvi
Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................ xxii
Introduction ....................................................................................................................................... xxii

Section 1
Theoretical Foundations of Informal Learning

Chapter 1
Informal Learning as Dialectics of Activity ....................................................................................... 1
Peter H. Sawchuk, University of Toronto, Canada

Chapter 2
On Informal Learning, Informal Teaching, and Informal Education: Addressing Conceptual,
Methodological, Institutional, and Pedagogical Issues ........................................................................ 18
Daniel Schugurensky, Arizona State University, USA

Chapter 3
From Logos to Eros and Back Again: An Exploration of the Foundations of Informal Learning and Tacit Knowledge ............................................................................................................................. 37
Al Lauzon, University of Guelph, Canada

Section 2
Informal Learning in Context

Chapter 4
Informal Learning in Second Language Acquisition: A Case Study of Two ESL Learners ............ 52
Helen Yeh, Hong Kong Polytechnic University (CPCE), China

Chapter 5
Informal Transformative Learning from a Life-Threatening Illness .............................................. 64
Chad Hoggan, North Carolina State University, USA
Chapter 6
Stories of Breastfeeding Advocates: The Significance of Informal Learning ..................... 80
Leah Poirier, Colchester East Hants District Health Authority, Canada

Chapter 7
Informal and Self-Directed Learning in the Age of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) .......... 91
Lin Lin, University of North Texas, USA
Patricia Cranton, University of New Brunswick, Canada

Section 3
Informal Learning in Cultural and Work Contexts

Chapter 8
How Pre-Service and First-Year Teachers Utilize Informal Learning in a Work Context.............. 106
Amy L. Sedivy-Benton, University of Arkansas – Little Rock, USA
Katina M. Leland, University of Arkansas – Little Rock, USA

Chapter 9
Informal Learning Contributes to the Leadership Development of Nurse Managers.................. 121
Rebecca McGill, St. Catherine University, USA

Chapter 10
Personal Interaction and Informal Learning: The Case of China........................................ 140
Kin Wai Michael Siu, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China
Giovanni J. Contreras, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China

Chapter 11
Social Capital and Community Development: A Nexus for Women Informal Learning............... 153
Adejoke C. Babalola, Obafemi Awolowo University, Nigeria

Chapter 12
Adult Health Learning: A Critical Approach to Informal Learning about Health ..................... 169
Leona M. English, St. Francis Xavier University, Canada

Chapter 13
Informal Learning as Group Meaning-Making: Visible Talk in Online Communities.................. 180
Mary Ziegler, University of Tennessee, USA
Trena Paulus, University of Georgia, USA
Marianne Woodside, University of Tennessee, USA

Section 4
Informal Learning in Program Development

Chapter 14
Making Sense of Surrounding Difference: Informal Learning in National Culture Adaptation ....... 198
David Starr-Glass, University of New York in Prague, Czech Republic
Chapter 15
Valuing and Evaluating Informal Learning in Workplace Communities of Practice .................. 215
Victoria J. Marsick, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA
Miren Fernández-de-Álava, Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain
Karen E. Watkins, University of Georgia, USA

Chapter 16
Enhancing Self-Reflective Practice and Conscious Service in the Helping Professions: The Value of Informal Learning .................................................................................................................. 233
Elizabeth Bishop, Confederation College, Canada

Chapter 17
Integration of Informal Learning Theory and Practice into the Study of Implementation in Healthcare Contexts ............................................................................................................. 250
Patrick R. Walden, St. John’s University, USA

Section 5
The Future of Informal Learning within the Education System

Chapter 18
Looking Back and Looking Forward ............................................................................................ 274
Patricia Cranton, University of New Brunswick, Canada
Olufemi Taiwo, Cornell University, USA
Olutoyin Mejiuni, Obafemi Awolowo University, Nigeria

Compilation of References .............................................................................................................. 295

About the Contributors .................................................................................................................. 326

Index ........................................................................................................................................... 333