Acknowledgment

This book is the result of my research in the field of knowledge dynamics, knowledge management, and intellectual capital over the last seven years. During that time, I had useful and inspirational interactions with many people, from my colleagues and doctoral students to known academics and researchers in this field. I would like to acknowledge the challenging discussions I had about knowledge dynamics with Daniel Andriessen, Irma Becerra-Fernandez, Marien van den Boom, Juan-Gabriel Cegarra-Navarro, John S. Edwards, Leif Edvinsson, David Gurteen, Aino Kianto, Donald Ropes, Giovani Schiuma, J. C. Spender, Karl-Erik Sveiby, Lajos Szabo, and José Maria Viedma Marti.

I would like to acknowledge the opportunities I had to visit Japan and to understand the wonderful culture of the Japanese people, due to the generosity of my friends Masanori Kikuchi, Toshihisa Nishioka, Hidekazu Murakawa, Genki Yagawa, and Shigeru Aoki. It helped me in understanding the deep meanings of the works published by Ikujiro Nonaka and his colleagues on knowledge dynamics and knowledge creation in Japanese companies.

Special thanks go to Eduardo Tomé, Daniel Glaser Segura, Anikó Csepregi, Andrei Nestian, Ivona Orzea, and Ramona-Diana Leon for their comments on the manuscript of this book and suggestions to improve it. In addition, I am deeply honored by Ettore Bolisani who wrote the Foreword for this book.

Special thanks also go to the publishing team at IGI Global, whose contributions throughout the whole process from inception of the initial idea to final publication have been invaluable. In particular to Kayla Wolfe, Jan Travers, Christine Smith, and Hayley Kang.

My deepest thanks go to my wife, Georgetta, who encouraged me to take the challenge of writing this book and gave me the time to immerse myself in this wonderful journey.

Constatin Bratianu
Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania
December 2014