Acknowledgment

The editors would like to acknowledge the help of all the people involved in this project, in particular, the members of the Editorial Review Board, the authors that contributed their hard work and effort to this volume, and our colleagues at Daniel A. Reed Library and the State University of New York at Fredonia. Without their support, this book would not have become a reality.

The editors would also like to express our gratitude to the members of the Digital Humanities Renga at Fredonia, who inspired us to pursue our interests in this project. Additionally we would also like to thank Dr. Terry Brown, Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs at Fredonia for her assistance and support of our endeavor.
