Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xv

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................ xix

Section 1
Introduction to Cybersecurity and Cyberwarfare Principles

Chapter 1
Toward Principles of Cyberspace Security ....................................................................................... 1
   Mark T. Maybury, The MITRE Corporation, USA

Chapter 2
Cyber Warfare: The State of the Art ............................................................................................... 13
   Michael Robinson, Airbus Group Innovations, UK
   Kevin Jones, Airbus Group Innovations, UK
   Helge Janicke, De Montfort University, UK

Chapter 3
Attribution ............................................................................................................................................ 37
   Clement Guitton, King’s College London, UK

Section 2
Cybersecurity at Stake: Monitoring Threats, Managing Risks and Defensive Measures

Chapter 4
Security Monitoring of the Cyber Space ......................................................................................... 62
   Claude Fachkha, Concordia University, Canada

Chapter 5
The Rigorous Security Risk Management Model: State of the Art ................................................. 84
   Neila Rjaibi, Department of Computer science, Institut Supérieur de Gestion de Tunis (ISG), Tunisia
   Latifa Ben Arfa Rabai, Department of Computer science, Institut Supérieur de Gestion de Tunis (ISG), Tunisia
Chapter 6
Cybersecurity Requires a Clear Systems Engineering Approach as a Basis for Its Cyberstrategy

Dr. Raymond J. Curts, George Mason University, USA
Dr. Douglas E. Campbell, Syneca Research Group, USA

Chapter 7
Towards Protecting Critical Infrastructures

Filipe Caldeira, University of Coimbra and Polytechnic Institute of Viseu, Portugal
Tiago Cruz, University of Coimbra, Portugal
Paulo Simões, University of Coimbra, Portugal
Edmundo Monteiro, University of Coimbra, Portugal

Chapter 8
Cyber-Attacks, Retaliation and Risk: Legal and Technical Implications for Nation-States and Private Entities

Cameron S. D. Brown, Australian National University, Australia

Section 3
National Issues, Strategies and Policies

Chapter 9
Developing Confidence Building Measures (CBMs) in Cyberspace between Pakistan and India

Tughral Yamin, National University of Sciences and Technology, Pakistan

Chapter 10
Cyber Attacks and Preliminary Steps in Cyber Security in National Protection

Faruk Aydin, Turkish Air Force, Turkey
O. Tolga Pusatli, Cankaya University, Turkey

Chapter 11
Conflict in Cyberspace: The Case of the Middle East

Olivier Danino, French Institute for Strategic analysis (IFAS), France

Chapter 12
Information Warfare in the 2013-2014 Ukraine Crisis

Brett van Niekerk, Transnet SOC Ltd and University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

Section 4
Concluding Remarks and Reflections on the Essence of Cyberwarfare

Chapter 13
The Islamist Cyberpropaganda Threat and Its Counter-Terrorism Policy Implications

Nigel Jones, King’s College, UK
Paul Baines, Cranfield University, UK
Russell Craig, Cranfield University, UK
Ian Tunnicliffe, Accordance Associates, UK
Nicholas O’Shaughnessy, Queen Mary University of London, UK
Chapter 14
Thinking Systemically about Security and Resilience in an Era of Cybered Conflict ..................... 367

  Peter Dombrowski, US Naval War College, USA
  Chris C. Demchak, US Naval War College, USA

Chapter 15
Cyberinsecurity and Cyberwarfare: The Case for Social Science and Philosophical Approaches.
Reflections from Asia. ......................................................................................................................... 383

  Alan Chong, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Compilation of References .................................................................................................................. 397

About the Contributors ......................................................................................................................... 462

Index .................................................................................................................................................. 470