Table of Contents

Foreword ............................................................................................................................................. xvi

Preface ................................................................................................................................................ xix

Acknowledgment ............................................................................................................................ xxvii

Section 1
Foundations

Chapter 1
Listening to Alzheimer’s: The Role of Social Location in Illness Narratives ................................. 1
  Renee L. Beard, College of the Holy Cross, USA
  Maureen K. O’Connor, Bedford Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center, USA &
  Boston University School of Medicine, USA

Chapter 2
Steve’s Story: Living with Mild Cognitive Impairment ................................................................. 33
  Steve Heins, Walt Disney Company (Retired), USA
  Gincy Heins, Care Partner and Consultant, USA
  Cordula Dick-Muehlke, University of California, Irvine, USA

Chapter 3
Cognitive Decline and the Changing Self in Relationship ............................................................ 61
  Darby Morhardt, Northwestern University, Feinberg School of Medicine, USA
  Marcia Spira, Loyola University Chicago, USA

Chapter 4
Taking Care to Play: Meaningful Communication in Dementia Care in Chinese Culture .......... 76
  Shika Card, Department of Anthropology, McGill University, Canada
  Huali Wang, Dementia Care and Research Center, Peking University Institute of Mental Health, China

Chapter 5
Dementia and Other Neurocognitive Disorders: An Overview ................................................... 104
  James E. Galvin, Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine, Florida Atlantic University, USA
  Mary E. Kelleher, NYU Langone Medical Center, USA
Section 2
Awareness and Identity

Chapter 6
Awareness, Self, and the Experience of Dementia: Foundations of a Psychologically Minded Approach
Gill Toms, School of Psychology, Bangor University, UK
Catherine Lawrence, School of Psychology, Bangor University, UK
Linda Clare, School of Psychology, University of Exeter, UK

Chapter 7
Stable Self-Concepts and Flexible Coping Strategies of People with Dementia Attending Dementia Self-Help Groups in Germany: Results from the Qualitative Longitudinal SEIN Study
Milena von Kutzleben, German Center for Neurodegenerative Diseases, Germany
Birgit Panke-Kochinke, German Center for Neurodegenerative Diseases, Germany

Chapter 8
Self-Preservation in Individuals with Alzheimer’s Disease: Empirical Evidence and the Role of the Social Environment
Sam Fazio, Alzheimer’s Association, USA
David B Mitchell, WellStar College, Kennesaw State University, USA

Chapter 9
Art, Drawing Task Processes, and Identity Awareness: A Case Study on the Retro-Genesis Phenomenon as an Indicator of the Progress of Dementia
Ana Belén Navarro, University of Salamanca, Spain
Unai Díaz-Orueta, Nesplora, Technology & Behavior, Spain
Lorena Martín-Niño, University of Salamanca, Spain
Miguel Elías Sánchez-Sánchez, University of Salamanca, Spain

Section 3
Practice

Chapter 10
Spiritual Factors in the Experience of Alzheimer’s Disease and Other Dementias
Elizabeth MacKinlay, Charles Sturt University, Australia
Corinne Trevitt, Charles Sturt University, Australia

Chapter 11
Disease Awareness, Cognitive Decline, and Communication in Persons with Mild Cognitive Impairment and Caregivers
Yvonne Yueh-Feng Lu, Indiana University, USA
Mary Guerriero Austrom, Indiana University, USA
Chapter 12
Changing Perception in Alzheimer’s: An Experiential View .................................................. 271
G. Allen Power, University of Rochester, USA

Section 4
Daily Life

Chapter 13
Fragmented Existence: Living Alone with Dementia and a Manifest Care Need ..................... 302
Rune Svanström, University of Skövde, Sweden

Chapter 14
The Impact of Decline on Everyday Life in Alzheimer’s Disease........................................... 327
Lovingly Quitania Park, Azusa Pacific University, USA
Britt Busson, Azusa Pacific University, USA

Chapter 15
The Sleep-Wake System and Alzheimer’s Disease............................................................... 339
Denise Sharon, Advanced Sleep Center, Tulane University, USA

Compilation of References ........................................................................................................ 366
About the Contributors ............................................................................................................ 424
Index ....................................................................................................................................... 431