Acknowledgment

For almost a year, we have been fortunate to have the company of a team of editorial advisors, contributors and reviewers who have been very forthcoming right from the stage of the ideation of this handbook. On passing down the proposal to them, almost all of them readily responded which truly encouraged us to go ahead with the project.

We anticipated the success of this publication, the moment we received responses from contributors belonging to diverse countries. What pushed us further was their instant support for the minor or major revisions requested for by the reviewers. We are extremely thankful to all the contributors who exercised so much of diligence which actually dispelled the fears we had in the initial stages of this venture. We appreciate and thank all the members of the Editorial Advisory Board who played instrumental roles in providing us the perfect inputs to go ahead with the project. Besides, we wouldn’t forget that the real momentum gained came from the hands of the reviewers who played pivotal roles responding immediately to our requests and that too under constrained duration given for the same.

IGI, the publishing house which gave us the support throughout deserves our profuse gratitude. Mr. Brandon Carbough, Mr. Hayley King, Mr. Vince D’Imperio (hope we did not miss out any names) who untiringly synchronized efficiently and kept pushing us every time we neared deadlines. They kept sounding the warning bells which truly acted in our favour, helping us complete the project.

Dr. Chinnaswamy Pichandy, the Head of the Department of Communication at PSG College of Arts & Science, India, who has contributed the foreword to this handbook, deserves a tribute through this venture of ours. At the launch of this handbook Dr. Pichandy will have retired from his academic service which spanned over three decades and a half. Being our teacher and research supervisor, there cannot be a more fitting moment to acknowledge his influence on our lives.

We, the editors, look forward to valuable future ventures with this esteemed publication and thank all for giving us an opportunity to bring out this publication on time.
