Table of Contents

Foreword ........................................................................................................................................... xxviii

Preface ................................................................................................................................................ xxx

Acknowledgment ........................................................................................................................... xxxvii

Volume I

Chapter 1
Designing Online MBA Programs to Promote Transformative Learning and Knowledge Creation through Project-Based Learning Using the Job Characteristics Model ......................................................... 1

Sharon. E. Norris, Spring Arbor University, USA

Chapter 2
Factors Affecting the Adoption of Web 2.0 Technologies by University Students: Evidence from Australia ........................................................................................................................................................................ 27

Yasser D. Al-Otaibi, Griffith University, Australia

Luke Houghton, Griffith University, Australia

Chapter 3
Assessment of Learning and Technology: Computer Science Education .......................................... 51

Hillary G. Fleenor, Columbus State University, USA

Rania Hodhod, Columbus State University, USA

Chapter 4
Creating an Integrated Second Life Curriculum: Teaching and Learning through Interdisciplinary Pedagogies ............................................................................................................................................. 79

Maureen Ellis, East Carolina University, USA

Patricia J. Anderson, East Carolina University, USA

Chapter 5
Faculty Response to the Opportunities of the Digital Age: Towards a Service Culture in the Professoriate .................................................................................................................................................. 102

David Starr-Glass, University of New York in Prague, Czech Republic
Chapter 6
Using Digital Resources to Support STEM Education

Carol Adamec Brown, East Carolina University, USA

Chapter 7
Distributed Cognition: Teachers’ Perceptions and Implications for Learning Outcomes and Instructional Technology

Sherah Betts Carr, Mercer University, USA
Nneka Johnson, Mercer University, USA
Lucy Bush, Mercer University, USA

Chapter 8
The Blended Learning Environment in Higher Education: The Tutor and Student Perspective

Ellen Boeren, University of Edinburgh, UK

Chapter 9
Becoming a Successful Entrepreneur through Emotional Intelligence Development

Teresa Torres-Coronas, Universitat Rovira i Virgili, Spain
María-Arántzazu Vidal-Blasco, Universitat Rovira i Virgili, Spain

Chapter 10
Online Learning and Metacognition: A Design Framework

Geraldine Torrisi-Steele, Griffith University, Australia

Chapter 11
Pedagogical Teaching or Andragogical Teaching via MOOCs?

Victor C. X. Wang, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Linda Ellington, Southern New Hampshire University, USA

Chapter 12
Individual Differences, Learning Opportunities and Learning Outcomes, Digital Equity: Bridging the Gap – Creating Learning Opportunities for All Students

Amy L. Sedivy-Benton, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, USA

Chapter 13
Technological Interventions: Examination of Social Exchange as an Antecedent to Academic Achievement in Online Learning

Sayyid Cato, Keiser University, USA
Rehana Seepersad, Florida International University, USA

Chapter 14
Technological Tools to Enhance Workplace Learning among Virtual Team Members

Jeanette Andrade, Eastern Illinois University, USA
Wen-Hao Huang, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA
Chapter 15
Using Blended Learning and Emerging Technologies to Transform the Adult Learning Experience .................................................................................................................. 329
  Leslie Cordie, Auburn University, USA
  Maria Martinez Witte, Auburn University, USA
  James Witte, Auburn University, USA

Chapter 16
Cultural Intelligence and Experiential Learning Powering Faculty Intercultural Leadership Development .............................................................................................................. 354
  Althia Ellis, Florida Atlantic University, USA

Chapter 17
Youth Learning in Afterschool Programs: Exploring Learning Outcomes for Rural Youth ............. 376
  Al Lauzon, University of Guelph, Canada
  Sarah Christie, University of Guelph, Canada
  Heather Cross, University of Guelph, Canada
  Bushra Khan, University of Guelph, Canada
  Bakhtawar Khan, University of Guelph, Canada

Chapter 18
Retaining Disciplinary Talents as Informal Learning Outcomes in the Digital Age: An Exploratory Framework to Engage Undergraduate Students with Career Decision-Making Processes ............................................................................................................ 402
  Wen-Hao Huang, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA
  Eunjung Oh, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA

Volume II

Chapter 19
Reflective Learning in the Digital Age: Insights from Confucius and Mezirow ............................ 421
  Victor C. X. Wang, Florida Atlantic University, USA
  Rosaria Torrisi-Steele, Griffith University, Australia

Chapter 20
The Use of Technology to Promote Engagement: Five Case Studies in Distance Education ........ 441
  Rebecca L. Odom-Bartel, The University of Alabama, USA

Chapter 21
Critical Thinking, Instruction, and Professional Development for Schools in the Digital Age .......... 462
  Howard V. Coleman, Coastal Carolina University, USA
  Jeremy Dickerson, Coastal Carolina University, USA
  Dennis Dotterer, South Carolina Department of Education, USA
Chapter 22
Bring Your Own Device (BYOD): The Power of the Tablet to Pocket Size Mobile Device on Learning and Assessment – Possibilities and Impacts on University Faculty, Students, and Staff.... 482
Christina Van Wingerden, Western Washington University, USA
Ari Lidz, Western Washington University, USA
AJ Barse, Western Washington University, USA
Joanne DeMark, Western Washington University, USA
David Hamiter, Western Washington University, USA

Chapter 23
A Multi-Criteria Decision Making Approach for Evaluation of MOOCs Platforms............... 510
Sunil Pratap Singh, Dayalbagh Educational Institute (Deemed University), India
Preetvanti Singh, Dayalbagh Educational Institute (Deemed University), India

Chapter 24
Learning Opportunities and Outcomes of Design Research in the Digital Age ...................... 538
Kin Wai Michael Siu, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China & Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA
Yi Lin Wong, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China

Chapter 25
Through the Eyes of Students and Faculty: A Conceptual Framework for the Development of Online Courses.......................................................... 557
Maysaa Barakat, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Debra N. Weiss-Randall, Florida Atlantic University, USA

Chapter 26
Technology Paved the Road for Students in a High-School Dropout Recovery Program to an Online College Class............................................................... 585
C. Jayne Brahler, University of Dayton, USA

Chapter 27
The Digital Journey: Integrating Technology into Teaching and Learning.......................... 611
Susannah Brown, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Jennifer Bird, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Ann Musgrove, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Jillian Powers, Florida Atlantic University, USA

Chapter 28
Disruptive Technologies and Education: Is There Any Disruption After All?...................... 643
Kin Wai Michael Siu, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China & Wuhan Institute of Technology, China
Giovanni Jesue Contreras García, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China
Chapter 29
Learning to Teach Online: Negotiating Issues of Platform, Pedagogy, and Professional Development ......................................................... 664
Christina M. Tschida, East Carolina University, USA
Elizabeth M. Hodge, East Carolina University, USA
Steven W. Schmidt, East Carolina University, USA

Chapter 30
Using ePortfolios to Integrate and Assess Learning across the Curriculum ................................................................. 685
Catherine M. Wehlburg, Texas Christian University, USA

Chapter 31
MOOCs: A Three Dimensions Analysis of Impact in Higher Education .............................................................. 703
Maren Luebcke, Zurich University of Applied Science, Switzerland
Fabienne Javet, Zurich University of Applied Science, Switzerland
Snezana Scepanović, University “Mediterranean”, Montenegro

Chapter 32
Improving Workforce Education Learning Outcomes: Lessons from Soviet Educator A. S. Makarenko .......................................................... 721
Carsten Schmidtke, University of Arkansas – Fayetteville, USA

Chapter 33
Mixed-Reality Immersive Environment as an Instructional Tool for Building Educational Leadership Capacity: Is This the Future? .............................................. 744
Valerie Anne Storey, University of Central Florida, USA
Neffisatu J. C. Dambo, University of Central Florida, USA

Chapter 34
Twitter in Foreign Language Classes: Initiating Learners into Contemporary Language Variation .............................................................. 769
Geraldine Blattner, Florida Atlantic University, USA
Amanda Dalola, The University of South Carolina, USA
Lara Lomicka, The University of South Carolina, USA

Chapter 35
Technology-Enabled Learning Opportunities ................................................................................................................. 798
Amir Manzoor, Bahria University, Pakistan

Chapter 36
New Learning for New Students .............................................................................................................................. 819
John Hope, University of Auckland, New Zealand
Chapter 37
Virtual Learning Communities in Organizations and Institutions of Higher Learning: Implications for Technology, Learning Practice, and Organizational Culture .................................................. 838

Ramona T. Sharpe, Teachers College, Columbia University, USA
David Bush, Villanova University, USA
Lawrence Cozzens, Villanova University, USA
Megan Bosler, Villanova University, USA

Compilation of References ............................................................................................................. xxxviii

About the Contributors ................................................................................................................... cxlii

Index................................................................................................................................................. clviii