Acknowledgment

The editors would like to express their deepest gratitude to all individuals for their immense contributions without which this book would not have become a reality. To begin with, we would like to thank all our contributing authors for submitting such informative and provocative chapters and their relentless desire to revise their chapters based on the reviews. We are grateful to Dr. Beverly Ray, Idaho State University, USA, for writing an insightful foreword to this book.

We also wish to acknowledge the reviewers for taking the time to provide constructive comments and suggestions to make this book more coherent and readable. Most of the authors also served as reviewers and we highly appreciate their double task.

In addition, we are thankful to our editor, Rachel Ginder at the IGI Global, for her support and mostly for keeping us on schedule. Finally, we are most grateful to our families for their continued patience and encouragement throughout this project. Thank you!
