This book is dedicated to educational pioneers everywhere who seek to explore opportunities to develop in meaningful and innovative ways as they learn through virtual reality—to all learners and practitioners who are becoming better equipped for the exciting future of the learning landscape that awaits us all.

In memory of my son, Jeremy Blake Estes, who got his first computer in 1983 at the age of 13 and thereafter they were inseparable. -JSE