Acknowledgment

It is our pleasure to offer our sincere thanks to:

Suzanne D’Amato for her consistent support, friendship, and outstanding organizational talent. Her positive outlook kept us smiling. A big thanks!

Karen DeMoss for her mentorship, friendship, and for always being there to help support our research. Her feedback was instrumental in making this project happen!

Stephen Preskill for his gift with words and his friendship.

Ted, Mia, and Lexi Zang for their ongoing encouragement, support, and love. Ma gracias por tu amor, apoyo y consejos.

Harvey Nisselson for his invaluable expertise, feedback, strong support, and attention to detail.

Family and friends who believe in the importance of this project, and never hesitated to offer heartfelt encouragement and love as we moved forward. Grandpa Theo thanks for the great conversations too!

Fox Family - For the confidence in our efforts to bring together a diverse group of scholars with multiple perspectives to discuss ways to promote partnerships and ongoing collaboration

Colleagues and students from Wagner who asked about our progress and always cheered us on. A big thank you!

Peer reviewers who provided the authors with words of wisdom to support them in communicating their invaluable ideas through the medium of writing. Thank you!

To the community partners, especially the group of mothers who shared sincere stories about their culture and encouraged us as we learned together.

To the authors who created this book. Their culturally responsive orientation and commitment to their research and practice was evident. It was a pleasure collaborating with all of them.
