Acknowledgment

The editor would like to acknowledge the help of those involved in the drafting and review process of this book. Without their input, encourage, and support the book could not have been developed.

In particular, thanks are due to Hayley Kang, Brandon Carbaugh, and especially to Katherine Shearer, all of them Editorial Assistants-Book Development Division at IGI Global, for their patience, effort, determination, and good work. Without them, and especially Kathy, this handbook of research would not have been finished.

I would like to thank all of the authors for their excellent contributions to this handbook of research. The work of searching, compiling, reviewing, and editing has been intense, but very rewarding. These 25 chapters have been written by 53 authors who develop their professional skills at universities and research centers located in 15 countries situated in Africa (Ghana and Namibia), America (Chile, Colombia, Mexico, Nicaragua, and Puerto Rico), Asia (Turkey and India), and Europe (Germany, The Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Spain, and United Kingdom). As a result, the book has a multilateral and worldwide perspective on Social Entrepreneurship and Solidarity Economics.

Finally, I would like to thank those who love me, and especially to my friends and family, for their understanding while preparing this handbook of research. Gratitude especially is given to my family. That is why I dedicate this book to my “three Marys” (Maria Antonia, Maria, and Mariam) who accompany me during my life.
