Editors are thankful to the talented technical reviewers who contributed to the constant improvement of this book. Their knowledge and enthusiasm was priceless and inspiring. Also, we thank our colleagues and friends from Instituto Tecnológico de Orizaba and Universidad Autónoma de Ciudad Juárez for their invaluable and endless support in every project carried out as a team.

Similarly, editors would like to express special gratitude to IGI Global Publishing and associate editors for the opportunity to edit this book and for providing valuable comments to improve the selection of research works. Finally, we are also thankful to the National Technological Institute of Mexico (Tecnológico Nacional de México).

This book was sponsored by the Public Education Secretary (SEP) through PRODEP as well as the National Council of Science and Technology (CONACYT) under grand number 260320 as part of the project named Thematic Network in Industrial Process Optimization.