Acknowledgment

Editing a book is hard, but compensating and enriching task. This task cannot be accomplished without the help and support of many people. The editors would like to acknowledge the help of all people involved in this project and, more specifically, the authors, as without their support this book would not have become a reality.

Firstly, the editors would like to thank each one of the authors for their excellent contributions to this book. Our sincere gratitude goes to the chapters’ authors, who contribute their time and expertise to this book. Thank you authors, you made this book.

Secondly, the editors would like to acknowledge the valuable contributions of the authors, who simultaneously served as referees for chapters written by other authors, as well as to the external referees and to the members of the editorial advisory board for their insights, valuable contribution, prompt collaboration, and constructive comments. Thank you for your work.

This book would not have been possible without the ongoing professional support of the team of professionals at IGI-Global. The editors would like to give thanks to IGI Global for the opportunity and believe in this project. A very special thank you is due to Courtney Tychinski, Development editor, for her professional support and friendly worlds of advice, encouragement and prompt guidance. We also address our recognition and appreciation to all the staff at IGI Global, whose contribution through the process of production and making this book available all over the world was invaluable.

Thank you.
