Table of Contents

Foreword ........................................................................................................................................... xvii

Preface ........................................................................................................................................... xix

Section 1
Historical Development and Methodological Issues

Chapter 1
Ranking World Universities: A Decade of Refinement, and the Road Ahead............................... 1
  Ben Sowter, QS Intelligence Unit, UK
  Shadi Hijazi, QS Intelligence Unit, UK
  David Reggio, QS Intelligence Unit, UK

Chapter 2
Academic Performance vs. Academic Reputation: What Comes First – How Well You Perform or
How Others See Your Performance? ................................................................................................. 25
  Aleksandra Radojicic, University of Belgrade, Serbia
  Marina Jovanovic-Milenkovic, University of Belgrade, Serbia
  Veljko Jeremic, University of Belgrade, Serbia

Chapter 3
The Origins of International Rankings ............................................................................................. 61
  John O’Leary, Independent Researcher, UK

Chapter 4
University Rankings: Was Academic Life Perfect before Rankings?............................................ 70
  Bertil Andersson, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore
  Tony Mayer, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Chapter 5
The Consequences of Ranking: Theory and Reality ...................................................................... 87
  Judy Sin Lai Lam, Wuhan College, China
Chapter 6
World Class Universities and the Rest ................................................................. 109
David A. Turner, University of South Wales, UK

Chapter 7
Citations, Open Access and University Rankings ............................................. 129
Clive Baldock, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 8
The Impact of Scale and Scope on Global University Rankings: What We Know and What We Need to Learn ........................................................................................................ 140
Liang-Cheng Zhang, Griffith University, Australia
Andrew C. Worthington, Griffith University, Australia

Chapter 9
Analyzing the Disciplinary Focus of Universities: Can Rankings Be a One-Size-Fits-All? .......... 161
Nicolas Robinson-Garcia, Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain
Evaristo Jiménez-Contreras, Universidad de Granada, Spain

Chapter 10
Role of University Rankings in the Context of Lack of Resources: National and Institutional
Challenges ................................................................................................................ 186
Magdalena Platis, University of Bucharest, Romania

Section 2
University Ranking Strategic Issues

Chapter 11
Do High Ranked Universities Have Better Graduate Employment Outcomes? .................. 210
Mahsood Shah, CQUniversity, Australia
Hai Yen Vu, Macquarie University, Australia
Winnie Eley, The University of Newcastle, Australia

Chapter 12
Uses and Abuses of Ranking in University Strategic Planning .............................. 232
Zaw Wint, Universiti Brunei Darussalam, Brunei
Kevin Downing, City University of Hong Kong, China

Chapter 13
How Students Choose the University: Personal and Institutional Factors .................. 252
Tatjana Kanonire, National Research University Higher School of Economics, Russia

Chapter 14
Overcoming Size and Subject Bias in Rankings: A Review of Various Trends and Bias in Data
Commonly Used in Rankings and Methods to Overcome Them .................................. 266
Simon Michael Pratt, Thomson Reuters, Canada
Chapter 15
Development and Outcomes of a New Institutional Ranking System for Public Administration
Research and Scholarship ................................................................. 277
Adam M. Williams, University of Illinois at Springfield, USA
Derek R. Slagle, Florida Atlantic University, USA

Chapter 16
Embedded Colonial Power: How Global Ranking Systems Set Parameters for the Recognition of Knowers, Knowledge, and the Production of Knowledge .................................................. 302
Leslie D. Gonzales, Michigan State University, USA
Chelsea Waugaman, Clemson University, USA

Section 3
Regional and National Initiatives

Chapter 17
Globalization of World University Rankings and Its Impact on Asian Universities .................. 329
Fraide A. Ganotice Jr., The University of Hong Kong, China
Hei-Hang Hayes Tang, The Education University of Hong Kong, China
Gordon Tsui, The University of Hong Kong, China
Jonalyn B. Villarosa, Palawan State University, Philippines
Susanna S. Yeung, The Education University of Hong Kong, China

Chapter 18
Rising up the Ranks: A University’s Journey of Change..................................................... 345
Zulkarnain Hanafi, Universiti Brunei Darussalam, Brunei
Chee Kiong Tong, Universiti Brunei Darussalam, Brunei

Chapter 19
Institutional Legacy as a Context of the Implementation of International Rankings in the Russian
Higher Education System................................................................. 368
Natalia Karmaeva, National Research University Higher School of Economics, Russia
Tatjana Kanonire, National Research University Higher School of Economics, Russia

Chapter 20
Building a World-Class University and the Role of University Ranking: A Russian Case ............ 393
Maxim B. Khomyakov, Ural Federal University, Russia

Chapter 21
University Rankingphilia and Phobia: Emerging Trajectories and Quality Assurance in Africa..... 420
Peter Akinsola Okebukola, Crawford University, Nigeria
Chapter 22
King Abdulaziz University Path to the Excellence: Mapping between Accreditation and Ranking
Systems ........................................................................................................................................... 436

Abdulfattah S. Mashat, University of Jeddah, Saudi Arabia
Habib M. Fardoun, King Abdulaziz University, Saudi Arabia

Compilation of References ............................................................................................................ 472

About the Contributors ............................................................................................................... 520

Index ........................................................................................................................................... 530