Table of Contents

Foreword ............................................................................................................................................. xix

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xx

Acknowledgment ............................................................................................................................. xxv

Chapter 1
Binarism as a Recipe for Lukewarm Research into Indigenous Knowledge Systems in Zimbabwe ............................................................................................................................................. 1

Jacob Mapara, Chinhoyi University of Technology, Zimbabwe

Chapter 2
Researching Indigenous Ways of Knowing-and-Being: Revitalizing Relational Quality of Living ................................................................................................................................................... 22

Norma Ruth Arlene Romm, University of South Africa, South Africa

Chapter 3
Fourth World Theory and Methods of Inquiry ................................................................................... 50

Rudolph Carl Rysen, Center for World Indigenous Studies, USA
Dina Gilio-Whitaker, Center for World Indigenous Studies, USA
Heidi G. Bruce, Center for World Indigenous Studies, USA

Chapter 4
Learning and Asserting an African Indigenous Health Research Framework ................................ 85

Abel Jacobus Pienaar, North-West University, South Africa

Chapter 5
Language, Participation, and Indigenous Knowledge Systems Research in Mqatsheni, South
Africa .................................................................................................................................................. 100

Constance Khupe, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa

Chapter 6
Application and Contribution of Hermeneutic and Eidetic Phenomenology to Indigenous Knowledge Research ......................................................................................................................... 127

Patrick Ngulube, University of South Africa, South Africa
Beatrice Ngulube, Tshwane University of Technology, South Africa
Chapter 7
Research Protocols and Ethical Considerations in Indigenous Knowledge Systems
Mogege David Mosimege, Human Sciences Research Council, South Africa

Chapter 8
Indigenous Knowledge Intelligence and African Development
Alexander Maune, University of South Africa, South Africa

Chapter 9
Conceptualizing the Knowledge of Traditional and Indigenous Communities Using Informetrics Approaches
Patrick Ngulube, University of South Africa, South Africa
Omwoyo Bosire Onyancha, University of South Africa, South Africa

Chapter 10
Use of Information and Communication Technologies Tools to Capture, Store, and Disseminate Indigenous Knowledge: A Literature Review
Petros Nhlavu Dlamini, University of Zululand, South Africa

Chapter 11
Visibility and Accessibility of Indigenous Knowledge on Open Access Institutional Repositories at Universities in Africa
Mass Tapfuma, National University of Science and Technology, Zimbabwe & University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa
Ruth Hoskins, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

Chapter 12
Indigenous Knowledges and Knowledge Codification in the Knowledge Economy
Edward Shizha, Wilfrid Laurier University, Canada

Chapter 13
Preservation of Indigenous Knowledge through Indigenous Languages in Zimbabwe
Lawton Hikwa, National University of Science and Technology, Zimbabwe
Esabel Maisiri, National University of Science and Technology, Zimbabwe

Chapter 14
Critical Reflections on Selected Local Narratives of Contextual South African Indigenous Knowledge
Mogomme Alpheus Masoga, University of Venda, South Africa

Chapter 15
Multiple Voices, Multiple Paths: Towards Dialogue between Western and Indigenous Medical Knowledge Systems
Rutendo Ngara, University of South Africa, South Africa
Chapter 16
Hybrid Method for Exploring Efficacy of Indigenous Management of Common Cold through African Therapy .......................................................... 359
  David Mphuthi, University of South Africa, South Africa
  Abel Jacobus Pienaar, Northwest University, South Africa

Chapter 17
Pluralistic Tendencies in Healing Abantu Illness in the Contemporary South Africa ............... 375
  Kholekile Hazel Ngqila, Walter Sisulu University, South Africa

Chapter 18
  Frances Emily Owusu-Ansah, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, Ghana
  Gordon M. Donnir, Komfo Anokye Teaching Hospital, Ghana

Chapter 19
Indigenous Communication: A Narrative of Selected Indigenous Practices of the Akan Group of Ghana .......................................................................................................................... 411
  Adelaide Owusu Agyepong, University of South Africa, South Africa

Chapter 20
Factors Militating Against the Development of Tiv Indigenous Knowledge ......................... 422
  Tim Cuttings Agber, TimeXperts, Pakistan

Compilation of References ........................................................................................................ 444

About the Contributors .............................................................................................................. 506

Index ........................................................................................................................................... 512