Table of Contents

Foreword .............................................................................................................................................. xx
Preface ............................................................................................................................................... xxxii
Acknowledgment .......................................................................................................................... xl

Section 1
Setting the Stage

Chapter 1
Competency-Based Education in Higher Education ................................................................. 1
Christine K. Sorensen Irvine, University of Hawai’i at Mānoa, USA
Jonathan M. Kevan, University of Hawai’i at Mānoa, USA

Chapter 2
Building Competence: A Historical Perspective of Competency-Based Education ................. 28
Kristin A Jones, City University of Seattle, USA
Steven G Olswang, City University of Seattle, USA

Chapter 3
Challenges and Opportunities in the Currency of Higher Education ...................................... 41
Deborah Everhart, Georgetown University, USA & Learning Objects Inc., USA
Deborah M. Seymour, American Council on Education, USA

Section 2
Building the System

Chapter 4
People, Processes, and Philosophies: Designing a CBE Program within a Traditional University.... 67
Tammi Cooper, University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, USA

Chapter 5
The Challenge of CBE Programs: Administrative and Technological Considerations of Non-
Semester-Based Programs .............................................................................................................. 92
Julie Uranis, Western Kentucky University, USA
Tanja Bibbs, Western Kentucky University, USA
Chapter 6
Academic Technology for Competency-Based Education in Higher Education .......................... 116
  Jonathan M. Kevan, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, USA
  Christine K. Sorensen Irvine, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, USA

Chapter 7
The Next-Generation CBE Architecture: A Learning-Centric Standards-Based Approach......... 134
  Jon Mott, Learning Objects Inc., USA
  Rob Nyland, Learning Objects Inc., USA
  Greg Williams, Learning Objects Inc., USA
  Michael Atkinson, Learning Objects Inc., USA
  Arin Ceglia, Learning Objects Inc., USA

Chapter 8
Using Communities of Practice to Identify Competencies......................................................... 157
  Mambo G. Mupepi, Grand Valley State University, USA

Chapter 9
A Framework for the Design of Online Competency-Based Education to Promote Student
  Engagement........................................................................................................................................ 168
  Robin Colson, University of West Florida, USA
  Atsusi Hirumi, University of Central Florida, USA

Chapter 10
A Return to Doing: How Authentic Assessment Changes Higher Education .......................... 186
  Karen M. Mattison, Capella University, USA
  Heather Schroeder, Capella University, USA
  Stacy L. Sculthorp, Capella University, USA
  Jaclyn Zacharias, Capella University, USA

Section 3
Going Live

Chapter 11
Learning, Adults, and Competency-Based Education ................................................................. 210
  Michelle Navarre Cleary, DePaul University, USA
  Kathryn Wozniak, Concordia University Chicago, USA
  Catherine Marienau, DePaul University, USA
  Gretchen Wilbur, DePaul University, USA
  Derise E. Tolliver, DePaul University, USA
  Pamela Meyer, DePaul University, USA
Chapter 12
Designing and Developing Competency-Based Education Courses Using Standards ......................... 232
   Nancy B. Hastings, University of West Florida, USA
   Karen L. Rasmussen, University of West Florida, USA

Chapter 13
A Framework for the Evaluation of Competency-Based Curriculum........................................... 250
   Devrim Ozdemir, Des Moines University, USA
   Carla Stebbins, Des Moines University, USA

Chapter 14
Measuring What Matters: The UW Flexible Option’s Framework to Measure Success from the Student Vantage Point.................................................................................................................. 268
   Aaron Brower, University of Wisconsin – Extension, USA
   Sandra Kallio, University of Wisconsin – Extension, USA
   Rebecca Karoff, University of Texas System, USA
   Mark Mailloux, University of Wisconsin – Extension, USA
   David Schejbal, University of Wisconsin – Extension, USA

Section 4
Case Studies

Chapter 15
Child Development Associate (CDA) Credential: A Competency-Based Framework for
Workforce Development .............................................................................................................. 284
   Valora Washington, Council for Professional Recognition, USA
   Brandi N. King, Child Care Aware of America, USA

Chapter 16
Polk State College’s Engineering Technology OEEE Associate’s Degree..................................... 308
   Naomi Boyer, Polk State College, USA
   Eric A. Roe, University of Texas at Austin, USA
   Kenneth Ross, Polk State College, USA
   Patricia Jones, Spartanburg Community College, USA
   Kathleen Bucklew, Polk State College, USA
   Marcia Conliffe, Polk State College, USA

Chapter 17
FLEX Path: Capella University’s Innovative Pathway to a Degree.............................................. 340
   Kimberly Pearce, Capella University, USA
   Brian Worden, Capella University, USA
Chapter 18
A Systematic Review of Competency-Based Education Effort in the Health Professions: Seeking Order Out of Chaos.............................................................................................................................................................................. 352
Wenxia Wu, Eastern Virginia Medical School, USA
Brian C. Martin, Eastern Virginia Medical School, USA
Chen Ni, Kent State University, USA

Chapter 19
Western Governors University: CBE Innovator and National Model.................................................. 379
Robert Mendenhall, Western Governors University, USA

Compilation of References ............................................................................................................. 401

About the Contributors .................................................................................................................. 438

Index................................................................................................................................................... 450