Table of Contents

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xvi

Section 1

Chapter 1
Cloud- and Crowd-Networked Pedagogy: Integrating Cloud Technologies in Networked Classrooms and Learning Communities ................................................................. 1
  Marohang Limbu, Michigan State University, USA

Chapter 2
Cloud-Enabled Learning Environment: Optimizing Collaborative Pedagogies, Bridging the Digital Divide, and Enhancing Inclusive Learning ......................................................... 25
  Dilli Bikram Edingo, York University, Canada

Chapter 3
Teaching and Learning in the Cloud: “Anywhere, Anytime.” Anybody, Too?! .................................. 42
  Anita August, Sacred Heart University, USA

Chapter 4
Genres in the MOOCology of Writing: Understanding Cloud-Based Learning through a Genre-Activity Analysis ................................................................................................................. 53
  Jason Chew Kit Tham, University of Minnesota, USA

Section 2

Chapter 5
3Ds of Integrating Cloud Technologies into Classrooms: Digital Identity, Competencies, and Self-Efficacy ................................................................................................................................. 70
  Binod Gurung, New Mexico State University, USA

Chapter 6
Critical Cloud Pedagogies: Using Network Diagrams to Name and Visualize Learning Networks ............................................................................................................................................... 87
  Jack Hennes, Michigan State University, USA
Chapter 7
Pervasive Pedagogy: Collaborative Cloud-Based Composing Using Google Drive ......................... 98
Maury Elizabeth Brown, Germanna Community College, USA
Daniel L. Hocutt, University of Richmond, USA

Chapter 8
New Media and Technology: How Do They Change the Notions of the Rhetorical Situations? .... 120
Ramesh Pokharel, University of Toronto, Canada

Chapter 9
Translingual and Digital Ecologies: A Cloud Pedagogy for Second Language Classrooms.......... 149
Jialei Jiang, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, USA

Chapter 10
The Digital Third World, Digital Democracy, and Cloud Pedagogy: Learning from Multilingual
Bloggers.............................................................................................................................................. 164
Dhruba Neupane, University of Waterloo, Canada

Section 3

Chapter 11
Doctoral Learning and Cognitive Apprenticeship: Technology Tools for Emerging Scholars ........ 178
Katherine Emmons, Walden University, USA

Chapter 12
Phases, Scaffolds, and Technology: Cloud-Based Student Collaboration Model for Online and Blended Course Design....................................................................................................................... 193
Julia Parra, New Mexico State University, USA

Chapter 13
Digital Literacy: Dilemma for EAL Parents ....................................................................................... 217
Byanjana Sharma, Monash University, Australia

Chapter 14
Scaffolding Agency and Responsibility in Cloud-Based Collaborative Writing............................. 230
Kate Fedewa, Michigan State University, USA
Kathryn Houghton, Michigan State University, USA

Chapter 15
Using the Hybrid Interactive Rhetorical Engagement (H.I.R.E.) Metrics to Analyze the Effectiveness of E-Learning Websites ................................................................................................ 242
Yowei Kang, Kainan University, Taiwan
Chapter 16
Challenges in Using Cloud Technology for Promoting Learner Autonomy in a Spanish Language Course: Reshaping Pedagogical Design .......................................................... 261

Jaya Kannan, Sacred Heart University, USA
Pilar Munday, Sacred Heart University, USA

Compilation of References ........................................................................................................ 291

About the Contributors ............................................................................................................... 322

Index ........................................................................................................................................... 326