We are primarily grateful for our chapter contributors, who responded to their call with a vision of empowerment for all students and a means by which we can use mobile technology a force for democratization and openness.

A measure of thanks is also extended to our dean, Dr. Victoria Groves-Scott, the chairperson of the Department of Teaching and Learning, Dr. Tammy Benson, and our colleagues at the University of Central Arkansas. Thank you for all of your encouragement.

We would also like to thank IGI Global for allowing us the opportunity to see this project to its fruition and for their support. Particular gratitude is extended to our Development Editor, Maria Rohde, for her knowledge, her guidance, and her quick responses to all of our questions.

Finally, without the support and patience from our families as we edited this book, none of this would have been possible.
