The journey of publication of an edited reference book is a challenging and very difficult task where a collective and disciplined support is highly required. We would like to gratefully acknowledge the selfless support of people who extended their hands to help us to make this project successful. First of all, we sincerely thank the chapter authors for their valuable contributions to this endeavor. In this regard since the book is mainly a collection of enhanced chapters where the chapters were previously published by prior IGI Global Publication, we would like to express our sincere thanks to the editors of those books from which these chapters have been selected. In addition, many thanks go to the reviewers who reviewed three new/fresh submissions. Furthermore, we would like to acknowledge the friendly and supportive role of the editorial staff of IGI Global, for their relentless help and support in different stages of the manuscript development. Last, but definitely not least, we are very grateful to all our family members for their continuous encouragement and inspiration to make this project a success.
