Acknowledgment

Metacognition and Successful Learning Strategies in Higher Education continues the ideas of Handbook of Research on Applied Learning Theory and Design in Modern Education. The successful completion of this ambitious project was possible only by deep implications and tremendous supports of many professors around the world, including authors, members of Editorial Advisory Board and reviewers. We are thankful to IGI Global for provided support, templates, and guidelines at all stages of this 1-year project.