Table of Contents

Foreword .................................................................................................................................................. xv

Preface .................................................................................................................................................. xvii

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................. xxv

Section 1
Ubiquitous Learning Environment for the 21st Century Generative Competence

Chapter 1
Metacognition in Higher Education: Successful Learning Strategies and Tactics for Sustainability..... 1
Elena Railean, Tiraspol State University, Moldova

Chapter 2
Development of Metacognition in Higher Education: Concepts and Strategies................................. 22
Maizam Alias, Universiti Tun Hussein Onn, Malaysia
Nor Lisa Sulaiman, Universiti Tun Hussein Onn, Malaysia

Chapter 3
Academic Learning Between Cognition and Metacognition: Analyses and Highlights in Higher
Education ............................................................................................................................................. 43
Ioan Neacsu, University of Bucharest, Romania

Chapter 4
Metacognition and Metacognitive Skills: Intellectual Skills Development Technology.................... 63
Nailya Sh. Valeyeva, Kazan National Research Technological University, Russia
Roman Kupriyanov, Moscow State Pedagogical University, Russia
Elvira R. Valeyeva, Kazan National Research Technological University, Russia
Section 2
Improving Metacognitive Skills and Strategies in Higher Education

Chapter 5
Learning at the Crossroads of Theory and Practice: Learning to Learn
Manoj Kumar, International Engineering Services, India

Chapter 6
Metacognitive Strategies in Higher Education: Development of Spiritual Intelligence Strategies
Within Training of the Academic Staff
Birnaž Nina, State University of Moldova, Moldova
Butnari Nadejda, State University of Moldova, Moldova

Chapter 7
Metacognition of Organization Members as the Basis of Learning Strategy in Higher School
Irina Sergeyevna Yakimanskaya, Orenburg State University, Russia
Anna Mikhaylovna Molokostova, Moscow Humanitarian-Economical Institute, Russia
Milyausha Yakubovna Ibragimova, Kazan (Volga Region) Federal University, Russia

Chapter 8
Facebook Discussion to Enhance English Learners’ Metacognitive Strategies
Pei-Ling Yang, Oriental Institute of Technology, Taiwan

Chapter 9
Student’s Psychological Factors and Metacognitive Skills in Higher Education
Adela Moraru, Dimitrie Cantemir University of Targu Mures, Romania

Section 3
The Importance of Metacognition for Teaching Art, Mathematics and Literature

Chapter 10
Conceptual Framework for Non-Algorithmic Education in STEAM Education: Toward Metacognitive Strategies
Marina Morari, Alecu Russo State University, Moldova

Chapter 11
Investigating the Correlation Between Clicker Usage and Learning Gains in University Mathematics: The Influence of Metacognitive Growth
Samuel Olugbenga King, Coventry University, UK
Chapter 12
Using Metacognitive Strategies in the STEM Field ................................................................. 239
   Gina J. Mariano, Troy University, USA
   Fred J. Figliano, Troy University, USA
   Autumn Dozier, Middle Tennessee State University, USA

Chapter 13
Metacognition in the Teaching of Literature ......................................................................... 254
   Martina Petríková, Faculty of Arts, Slovakia

Compilation of References ........................................................................................................ 273

About the Contributors ............................................................................................................. 301

Index ......................................................................................................................................... 305