Table of Contents

Foreword ............................................................................................................................................. xi
Preface ................................................................................................................................................ xiv

Section 1
Management and Leadership

Chapter 1
Management Skills and Capabilities in an Era of Technology Disruption ........... 1
Yvette Blount, Macquarie University, Australia

Chapter 2
The Social Relations of Anywhere Working: Major Themes and Meanings ...... 22
Mike Berrell, WADEmatheson, Australia

Chapter 3
Leading Anywhere Workers: A Scientific and Practical Framework ............... 47
Christianne T. Varty, Wilfrid Laurier University, Canada
Thomas A. O’Neill, University of Calgary, Canada
Laura A. Hambley, Work EvOHlution, Canada

Section 2
Tensions and Challenges

Chapter 4
Working Anywhere and Working Anyhow? A Tension-Based View on ICT and the Coordination of Work .......................................................................................................... 90
Alessandro Währner, TU Wien, Austria
Martina Hartner-Tiefenthaler, TU Wien, Austria
Sabine Theresia Koeszegi, TU Wien, Austria
Chapter 5
A New Way of Working: Flexibility and Work-Life Balance in the Accounting Profession in Australia

Karen Handley, Macquarie University, Australia
Susan McGrath-Champ, University of Sydney, Australia
Philomena Leung, Macquarie University, Australia

Section 3
Disability and Inclusiveness

Chapter 6
Telework and People with Disabilities: Perspectives of Managers and Employees from Australia

Rachelle Bosua, University of Melbourne, Australia
Marianne Gloet, University of Melbourne, Australia

Chapter 7
Telework: Exploring the Link Between Disability, Work/Family Balance, and Flexibility

Allyson Heisey, Columbia Southern University, USA

Section 4
Telehealth

Chapter 8
Aged Care, ICT, and Working Anywhere: An Australian Case Study

Gabriele Helen Taylor, Feros Care, Australia
Yvette Blount, Macquarie University, Australia
Marianne Gloet, University of Melbourne, Australia

Chapter 9
Working Anywhere for Telehealth

Yvette Blount, Macquarie University, Australia
Marianne Gloet, University of Melbourne, Australia

Compilation of References

About the Contributors

Index