Current Issues and Trends in E-Government Research

Table of Contents

Preface

Chapter I
Assessing Digital Government at the Local Level Worldwide:
An Analysis of Municipal Web Sites Throughout the World
James Melitski, Marist College, USA
Marc Holzer, Rutgers University – Campus at Newark, USA

Chapter II
The Impact of the Internet on Political Activism: Evidence from Europe
Pippa Norris, Harvard University, USA & United Nations Development Program

Chapter III
E-Government in Canada: Transition or Transformation?
Jeffrey Roy, Dalhousie University, Canada
Chapter IV
Motives, Strategic Approach, Objectives and Focal Areas in E-Gov-Induced Change ................................................................. 68
   Hans J. (Jochen) Scholl, University of Washington, USA

Chapter V
E-Government-Induced Business Process Change (BPC):
An Empirical Study of Current Practices........................................... 92
   Hans J. (Jochen) Scholl, University of Washington, USA

Chapter VI
Computer Security in Electronic Government: A State-Local
Education Information System.......................................................... 120
   Alison Radl, Iowa Department of Human Services, USA
   Yu-Che Chen, Iowa State University, USA

Chapter VII
Measuring and Explaining the Quality of Web Sites in the (Virtual) House of Representatives................................................... 146
   Kevin M. Esterling, University of California, Riverside, USA
   David M. J. Lazer, Harvard University, USA
   Michael A. Neblo, Ohio State University, USA

Chapter VIII
Electronic Democracy at the American Grassroots.......................... 163
   Donald F. Norris, University of Maryland, Baltimore County, USA

Chapter IX
A Brave New E-World? An Exploratory Analysis of Worldwide
E-Government Readiness, Level of Democracy, Corruption, and Globalization .................................................................................. 180
   Zlatko J. Kovačić, The Open Polytechnic of New Zealand,
   New Zealand

Chapter X
Scenarios for Future Use of E-Democracy Tools in Europe............. 203
   Herbert Kubicek, University of Bremen, Germany
   Hilmar Westholm, Institute for Information Management Bremen,
   GmbH, Germany
Chapter XI
The Quest for Advocates: Exploring the Missing Political Good Will for E-Democracy in Europe ................................................................. 224
Harald Mahrer, Vienna University of Economics and Business
Administration & METIS Institute for Economics and Political Research, Austria

Chapter XII
Åke Grönlund, Örebro University, Sweden
Annika Andersson, Örebro University, Sweden

Chapter XIII
E-Government Research: Capabilities, Interaction, Orientation, and Values ................................................................. 269
Kim Viborg Andersen, Copenhagen Business School, Denmark
Helle Zinner Henriksen, Copenhagen Business School, Denmark

Chapter XIV
E-Government Adoption in Canadian Municipal Governments:
A Survey of Ontario Chief Administrative Officers.............................. 289
Christopher G. Reddick, The University of Texas at San Antonio, USA

About the Authors.................................................................................. 309

Index ................................................................................................. 315