Table of Contents

Foreword ............................................................................................................................................... xiv

Preface ................................................................................................................................................ xvi

Acknowledgment ................................................................................................................................ xx

Section 1
Introduction to Educational Social Software

Chapter 1
Social Software as Tools for Pedagogical Transformation: Enabling Personalization, Creative Production, and Participatory Learning.......................................................... 1

Mark J. W. Lee, Charles Sturt University, Australia
Catherine McLoughlin, Australian Catholic University, Australia

Chapter 2
Web 2.0 and Learning: A Closer Look at Transactional Control Model in E-Learning .................. 23

Bolanle A. Olaniran, Texas Tech University, USA
Indi M. Williams, Texas Tech University, USA

Chapter 3
Metacognition on the Educational Social Software: New Challenges and Opportunities .......... 38

Margarida Romero, Université de Toulouse, France & Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, Spain

Section 2
Educational Social Software Technologies

Chapter 4
Use of Social Software in Education: A Multiple Intelligences Perspective ......................... 50

Filiz Kalelioglu, Baskent University, Turkey
Yasemin Gulbahar, Baskent University, Turkey
Chapter 5
Learning Together with the Interactive White Board ............................................ 69
   Linda Larson, McNeese State University, USA
   Sharon Vanmetre, McNeese State University, USA

Chapter 6
Analysis of Interactions through a Web Annotation Tool in a Pre-University Mathematics
Online Course ................................................................. 79
   Núria Escudero-Viladoms, IES Pompeu Fabra, Spain
   Teresa Sancho-Vinuesa, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya, Spain

Chapter 7
Harnessing Web 2.0 for Context-Aware Learning: The Impact of Social Tagging System on Knowledge Adaption .......................................................... 98
   Wai-Tat Fu, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA
   Thomas G. Kannampallil, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA

Chapter 8
ScreenPLAY: An Interactive Video Learning Resource for At-Risk Teens ......................... 114
   Evelyne Corcos, York University, Canada
   Peter Paolucci, York University, Canada

Section 3
Educational Social Software: The Teacher Perspective

Chapter 9
The e-Tutor in Learning 2.0 Scenarios: Profile, Professional Empowerment, and New Roles .......... 145
   Mario Rotta, University of Florence, Italy

Chapter 10
Entering the Virtual Teachers’ Lounge: Social Connectedness among Professional Educators in Virtual Environments ................................................................. 169
   Randall Dunn, Liberty University, USA

Section 4
Educational Social Software Applicability and Evaluation

Chapter 11
From Theory to Practice: Communities of Practice across the Canadian Public Service ............... 187
   Hope Seidman, Canada School of Public Service, Canada
   Andrea Mamers, Canada School of Public Service, Canada
   Bev Mitelman, Canada School of Public Service, Canada
   Mariève Gauthier, Canada School of Public Service, Canada