Volume I

Section 1
E-Health Enabling Technologies

Chapter 1
Intrabody Communications (IBC) as an Alternative Proposal for Biomedical Wearable Systems ....... 1
M.A. Estudillo, University of Seville, Spain
David Naranjo, University of Seville, Spain
Laura M Roa, University of Seville, Spain
Javier Reina-Tosina, University of Seville, Spain

Chapter 2
Microsystems for Wireless Sensor Networks with Biomedical Applications ....................................... 27
J. P. Carmo, University of Minho, Portugal
N. S. Dias, University of Minho, Portugal
José H. Correia, University of Minho, Portugal

Chapter 3
Hierarchical Wireless Networks of Body Sensor Networks for Healthcare Applications .................... 65
José A. Afonso, University of Minho, Portugal
Pedro Macedo, University of Minho, Portugal
Luis A. Rocha, University of Minho, Portugal
José H. Correia, University of Minho, Portugal

Chapter 4
Patient Tracking in Critical Scenarios .................................................................................................. 87
Gianluca Cornetta, Universidad CEU - San Pablo, Spain
David J. Santos, Universidad CEU - San Pablo, Spain
Chapter 5
Semi-Automatic Vertebra Segmentation
Mohammed Benjelloun, Faculty of Engineering at Mons, Belgium
Said Mahmoudi, Faculty of Engineering at Mons, Belgium

Chapter 6
Quantum Computation Perspectives in Medical Image Processing
Pedro João Soares Rodrigues, ESTiG Instituto Politécnico de Bragança, Portugal
Manuel João Ferreira, Universidade do Minho, Portugal
João Luís Monteiro, Universidade do Minho, Portugal

Chapter 7
Technical Perspective for the E-Health Care Management of Adaptive Collaboration
Based on Authentication Roaming Between Different Certificate Authorities
Masakazu Ohashi, Chuo University, Japan
Mayumi Hori, Hakuoh University, Japan

Chapter 8
Designing a Microcontroller-Based Portable MMC/SD Card Recorder: Time and Frequency Domain Analysis of HRV Using Sequential Interbeat Times
Ahmet Akbas, Marmara University of Turkey, Turkey
Yavuz Selim Kalkan, Marmara University of Turkey, Turkey

Chapter 9
Processing and Communication Techniques for Applications in Parkinson Disease Treatment
Álvaro Orozco-Gutiérrez, Universidad Tecnológica de Pereira, Colombia
Edilson Delgado-Trejos, Instituto Tecnológico Metropolitano ITM, Colombia
Hans Carmona-Villada, Instituto de Epilepsia y Parkinson del Eje Cafetero – Neurocentro, Colombia
Germán Castellanos-Domínguez, Universidad Nacional de Colombia, Colombia

Chapter 10
Electrocardiographic Signal Processing Applications in Telemedicine
Adrian Brezulianu, “Gheorghe Asachi” Technical University, Romania
Iulian Ciocoiu, “Gheorghe Asachi” Technical University, Romania
Monica Fira, Institute for Theoretical Computer Science, Romania

Chapter 11
Multi-Agent Systems for the Application and Employing of E-Health Services
Federico Bergenti, Università degli Studi di Parma, Italy
Agostino Poggi, Università degli Studi di Parma, Italy
Chapter 12
Mobile Communication Tools Using for Disaster Recovery Model ........................................... 265
İrfan Macit, Çukurova Üniversitesi, Turkey

Section 2
Social Challenges, Opportunities and Impact

Chapter 13
Health Care Virtual Communities: Challenges and Opportunities ........................................ 278
Christo El Morr, York University, Canada

Chapter 14
Website Accessibility for the Blind: A Study of E-Health Providers Under the Lens of Corporate Social Responsibility ................................................................. 299
Jonathan Frank, Suffolk University, USA

Chapter 15
The Human Centered Approach to Bionanotechnology in Telemedicine:
Ethical Considerations ........................................................................................................ 311
Gonçalo Jorge Morais da Costa, De Montfort University, UK
Nuno Miguel Araújo da Silva, Lusiada University, Portugal
Nuno Sotero Alves da Silva, De Montfort University, UK

Chapter 16
Online Communication and Healthcare: The Diffusion of Health-Related Virtual Communities ................................................................. 336
Paola Falcone, University of Rome “La Sapienza,” Italy

Chapter 17
A Client Perspective on E-Health Illustrated with an Example from The Netherlands............. 357
Cor van Dijkum, Utrecht University, The Netherlands
Laura Vegter, NetClienten, The Netherlands

Chapter 18
Empirical Evidence of Resistance to the Implementation of Electronic Prescription in Brazil ........ 378
Luiz Antonio Joia, Brazilian School of Public and Business Administration, Brazil
Carlos Magalhães, Brazilian School of Public and Business Administration, Brazil

Chapter 19
A View of Health Information Exchange: Towards a Digital Health Community .................... 392
Ger van den Broek, Philips Research Europe, The Netherlands
Section 3
Organizational and Business Aspects

Chapter 20
Organizational Implementation of Healthcare Information Systems ........................................... 419
G. Charissis, University of Crete, Greece University Hospital of Crete, Greece
C. Melas, Technological Educational Institute of Crete, Greece
V. Moustakis, Technical University of Crete, Greece
L. Zampetakis, Technical University of Crete, Greece

Chapter 21
E-Health Strategic Planning: Defining the E-Health Service’s Portfolio .................................... 451
Sara Carrasqueiro, Catholic University of Portugal, Portugal
Maria Helena Monteiro, Technical University of Lisbon, Portugal

Chapter 22
Medical Informatics: Preventive Medicine Applications via Telemedicine .................................. 475
Elif Derya Übeyli, TOBB Economics and Technology University, Turkey

Chapter 23
Knowledge Management in Healthcare ......................................................................................... 490
Christo El Morr, York University, Canada
Julien Subercaze, Université de Lyon, France

Chapter 24
Information System for Management of Organisation and Its Activity ....................................... 511
Lorenzo Ros McDonnell, Universidad Politécnica de Cartagena, Spain
Salvador Guillen Salazar, Hospital General de Sagunto, Spain

Chapter 25
Remote Wheelchair Selection: Supporting Wheeled Mobility and Seating Device
Stakeholder’s Decision in Telerehabilitation ..................................................................................... 533
Kyoung-Yun Kim, Wayne State University, USA
Yun Seon Kim, Wayne State University, USA
Mark R. Schmeler, University of Pittsburgh, USA

Chapter 26
Rhetoric of Private Healthcare Offers Presented to SMEs over the Internet ............................... 546
Jerzy Kisielnicki, Warsaw University, Poland
Tomasz Ochinowski, Warsaw University, Poland
Yu Ho Fang, Nanhua University, Taiwan
Chapter 27
An Interoperable Cross-Context Architecture to Manage Distributed Personal E-Health Information

Mina Deng, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium
Danny De Cock, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium
Bart Preneel, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium

Chapter 28
A Proposed Scalable Environment for Medical Data Processing and Evaluation

Csaba Horváth, Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Hungary
Gábor Fodor, Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Hungary
Ferenc Kovács, Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Hungary
Gábor Hosszú, Budapest University of Technology and Economics, Hungary

Section 4
Ongoing Projects and Applications / Project Results

Chapter 29
Virtual Reality for Supporting Surgical Planning

Sandra Leal, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain
Cristina Suarez, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain
J. M. Framinan, University of Seville, Spain
Carlos Luis Parra, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain
Tomás Gómez, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain
Purificación Gacto, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain
J. M. De La Higuera, University Hospitals ‘Virgen del Rocío’, Spain

Volume II

Chapter 30
Nutritional Monitoring and Advising Information System for Health Care Support

Vitor Basto Fernandes, IPLeiria – Instituto Politécnico de Leiria, Portugal
João Varajão, Universidade de Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro, Portugal

Chapter 31
Associations Between Driving Forces to Adopt ICT and Benefits Derived from that Adoption in Medical Practices in Australia

R. C. MacGregor, University of Wollongong, Australia
P. N. Hyland, University of Wollongong, Australia
C. Harvie, University of Wollongong, Australia
Chapter 32
Improving Access to Oncology Care for Individuals and Families Through Telehealth

Johanna den Duyf, BC Cancer Agency, Canada
Lars Apland, University of British Columbia, Canada
Valerie Ashworth, Provincial Health Authority, Canada
Arminee Kazanjian, University of British Columbia, Canada
Margarita Loyola, Royal Jubilee Hospital, Canada
Sarah Robertson, BC Cancer Agency, Canada
Brian Weinerman, Vancouver Island Health Authority and BC Cancer Agency, Canada
Cathy Wenger, Vancouver Island Health Authority, Canada

Chapter 33
An Evidence-Based E-Health Agenda: A Rural Perspective

Maddelina Cross, University of Melbourne, Australia
Daniel Carbone, University of Melbourne, Australia
Helen Haines, University of Melbourne, Australia
Alison Koschel, University of Melbourne, Australia
Debbie Skinner-Louis, University of Melbourne, Australia

Chapter 34
Opportunities and Challenges of Integrating mHealth Applications into Rural Health Initiatives in Africa

Patricia Mechael, Columbia University, USA

Chapter 35
Web-Based Learning Environment for Medical Education: E-Fer, a Practical Tool for Diagnosis and Treatment of Chronic Wounds

Josep Maria Monguet, Technical University of Catalunya, Spain
João Costa, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal
Pedro Gaspar, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal
Rogério Costa, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal

Chapter 36
Conservation of Information (COI): Geospatial and Operational Developments in E-Health and Telemedicine for Virtual and Rural Communities

Max E. Stachura, Medical College of Georgia, USA
Elena V. Astapova, Medical College of Georgia, USA
Hui-Lien Tung, Paine College, USA
Donald A. Sofge, Naval Research Laboratory, USA
James Grayson, Augusta State University, USA
Margo Bergman, Michael E. DeBakey VA Medical Center, USA
Joseph Wood, US Army, USA
William Lawless, Paine College, USA
Chapter 37
ICTs and Family Physicians Human Capital Upgrading: Delightful Chimera or Harsh Reality? ........................................ 778
  Aurora A.C. Teixeira, Universidade do Porto; INESC Porto, Portugal
  Teresa Dieguez, Universidade do Porto, Portugal

Chapter 38
Hotline for Exposure to Occupational Hazards ........................................................................................................... 805
  Ken Bleakley, CEO, FONEMED, USA

Chapter 39
MIMO: Multi-Agents System for Personal Health Monitoring ............................................................................................ 827
  Almudena Vicente Tocino, University of Salamanca, Spain
  Ana Isabel Calvo Alcalde, University of Valladolid, Spain
  Juan José Andrés Gutiérrez, Telefónica R&D, Parque Tecnológico de Boecillo, Spain
  Iván Álvarez Navia, University of Salamanca, Spain
  Francisco J. García Peñalvo, University of Salamanca, Spain
  Esteban Pérez Castrejón, Telefónica R&D, Parque Tecnológico de Boecillo, Spain
  José Rafael García Bermejo, University of Salamanca, Spain
  Jesús Vegas Hernández, University of Valladolid, Spain
  Valentín Cardeñoso Payo, University of Valladolid, Spain

Chapter 40
Governing Medication Information: Asset Specificity in the E-Health Context ......................................................... 851
  Reetta Raitoharju, Turku School of Economics, Finland
  Eeva Aarnio, Turku School of Economics, Finland
  Reima Suomi, Turku School of Economics, Finland

Chapter 41
Internet Use and Health Decision Making by Breast Cancer Patients in Malaysia ..................................................... 863
  Gerald Goh Guan Gan, Multimedia University, Malaysia
  Khor Yoke Lim, Universiti Sains Malaysia, Malaysia

Chapter 42
E-Therapy ........................................................................................................................................................................ 882
  Catarina I. Reis, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal
  Carla S. Freire, Polytechnic Institute of Leiria, Portugal
  Josep M. Monguet, Polytechnical University of Catalonia, Spain
Chapter 43
GuiMarket: An E-Marketplace of Healthcare and Social Care Services for Individuals with Special Needs

M. Manuela Cruz-Cunha, Polytechnic Institute of Câvado and Ave, Portugal & CITEPE – Research Center in Production Technologies and Energy, University of Minho, Portugal
Ricardo Simões, Polytechnic Institute of Câvado and Ave, Portugal & University of Minho, Portugal
António Tavares, Polytechnic Institute of Câvado and Ave, Portugal
Isabel Miranda, Câmara Municipal de Guimarães, Portugal

Section 5
Current Development Opportunities and Future Trends

Chapter 44
Exploring Personal Healthcare with the Help of Two Large European Framework Programs for Healthcare: MyHeart and HeartCycle

Harald Reiter, Philips Research Europe, Germany
Joerg Habetha, Philips Research Europe, Germany

Chapter 45
Neonatal Monitoring: Current Practice and Future Trends

Wei Chen, Eindhoven University of Technology, The Netherlands
Sidarto Bambang Oetomo, Máxima Medical Center, The Netherlands Eindhoven University of Technology, The Netherlands
Loe Feijs, Eindhoven University of Technology, The Netherlands

Chapter 46
Analyzing and Tracking the Evolution of Rehabilitation Treatment for Patients with Locomotory Deficiencies

Dorin Carstoiu, “Politehnica” University of Bucharest, Romania
Alexandra Cernian, “Politehnica” University of Bucharest, Romania

Chapter 47
Current State of Critical Patient Monitoring and Outstanding Challenges

A. Otero, University San Pablo CEU, Spain
P. Félix, University of Santiago de Compostela, Spain
S. Barro, University of Santiago de Compostela, Spain

Chapter 48
Adoption of Wearable Systems in Modern Patient Telemonitoring Systems

Antoniadou Eleni, University of Central Greece, Greece
Ilias Maglogiannis, University of Central Greece, Greece
Chapter 49
Healthcare Process Development with BPMN .......................................................... 1024
   Elvira Rolón, Autonomous University of Tamaulipas, México
   Félix Garcia, University of Castilla-La Mancha, Spain
   Francisco Ruiz, University of Castilla-La Mancha, Spain
   Mario Piattini, University of Castilla-La Mancha, Spain
   Luis Calahorra, General Hospital of Ciudad Real, Spain
   Rosario Paloma Sánchez, General Hospital of Ciudad Real, Spain
   Teresa Rodríguez, General Hospital of Ciudad Real, Spain

Chapter 50
Individual and Group Cognitive-Based Therapy Support ......................................... 1048
   Luís Carriço, University of Lisboa, Portugal
   Marco de Sá, University of Lisboa, Portugal

Chapter 51
Augmentative and Alternative Communication Technologies .................................. 1070
   Carol (Heins) Gonzales, Claremont Graduate University, USA
   Gondy Leroy, Claremont Graduate University, USA
   Gianluca De Leo, Old Dominion University, USA

Chapter 52
E-Health Applications in Ophthalmic Diseases: Ongoing Developments .................. 1088
   Jose Andonegui, Hospital de Navarra, Spain
   Luis Serrano, Public University of Navarra, Spain
   Aitor Eguzkiza, Public University of Navarra, Spain

Chapter 53
Online Advice, Guidance and Counseling for Problem Gamblers ............................ 1116
   Mark Griffiths, Nottingham Trent University, UK

Chapter 54
Capturing Distributed Contributions to an Informal Work Process:
A Hospital Facility Case Study ................................................................................. 1134
   Cláudio Miguel Sapateiro, Polytechnic Institute of Setúbal, Portugal
   Sérgio Grosso, Data Network Department, Cabovisão, Portugal

Compilation of References ....................................................................................... 1149
