I would like to acknowledge the help of all involved in the creation of this book. First of all I would like to express my deep appreciation and gratitude to Prof. Dr. Piet Ribbers of Tilburg University, The Netherlands, for his deep insights, broad knowledge, intellectual challenges and stimulating conversations. The same is true for Dr. Henk de Vries of Rotterdam School of Management, Erasmus University, The Netherlands. Henk’s suggestions and critiques were always very valuable, detailed and timely.

I would also like to thank all staff from the case company who assisted me in one way or the other and those who provided me with valuable insights as part of the case studies. Special thanks to Kay Jacobs and the publishing team at IGI Global, whose contributions throughout the publication process have been much valuable.

I want to thank my kids, family and friends for supporting me and special thanks to my cousin Ankie Jefferiss-Van Wessel who waded through the text of this book and has made it much better. Last but not least sincerest gratitude to my wife, Marian, for her unfailing support and encouragement when writing this book.

Robert M. van Wessel
The Hague, July, 2009