Acknowledgment

I express my gratitude to all the authors of different chapters in this book who conceived and detailed the chapters and helped shaping the book. This book is the result of joint efforts, patience and commitment of everybody who contributed to this book.

I would like to thank Seng Loke, La Trobe University, Australia, for writing a foreword for this book and am grateful to all the colleagues at different universities and organizations who reviewed this edition.

I am indebted to all my colleagues at University of Western Sydney especially Graydon Davison (Head of School), Stephen Waters (Associate head of School) and Rakesh Agrawal for their continuous support and valuable insights. I must thank the team at IGI Global in compilation of this book. I benefited from the excellent advice and directions from my acquisition editor.

My overriding debt to my husband, Subhash Bishnoi, who provided me with the time and support needed to prepare this book. I acknowledge the love, affection and blessings of my mother-in-law Maya Devi and father-in-law Manohar Lal Bishnoi, which inspired me. I express my loving thanks towards my elder sister Smriti and her husband Pradeep Poonia, younger sister Jambhika and her husband Nipun Sagar and brother Chaitanya for never ending love and encouragement.

Feelings from core of my heart could not be expressed in words for the vision, real encouragement, love and affection by my mother Chander Kala and father Nathu Ram Godara. Many thanks to my son Siddharth who sacrificed the fun we could have together while I was working on this book project. In fact it is our book.
