Acknowledgment

We would like to thank Jemma Buck, Hannah Canel, Dawn Hallidy, Lois Nathan and Rebecca Starkey for their careful reviewing and their useful comments. All errors and omissions remain entirely the authors’.

We are very grateful to Robert Fischer for agreeing to write the Foreword and for his clear understanding of the content of the book.

We would also like to express our gratitude to a great number of colleagues in the field, students in general and Ph. D. students in particular, for their helpful comments. Most of them are deservedly mentioned in the bibliography.

We cannot help turning to the two ‘blind’ reviewers who read these pages with great insight and commented them in ways that proved very helpful when adjusting the content of the book.

Last but not least, for understanding what writing the book meant for their husbands, huge thanks to Christine, Claire and Marie-Françoise.
