Acknowledgment

We would like to thank a number of people who have encouraged and actively supported us in this editorial work: first of all, the members of the Editorial Advisory Board, the Reviewers, and the Authors of the chapters, for the care, reliability and hindsight with which they have contributed to this book; the staff of IGI Global, for their timely and professional help in all the phases of the book production, and Roger Tilley, of World English, who has revised our halting English for several years now (and must be fed up with Educational Technology articles!).

Our special thanks also go to all of our colleagues of the Istituto per le Tecnologie Didattiche and, in particular, to Giovanna Caviglione, for her tireless effort in making the book bibliographical references coherent and accurate, to Michela Ott, Luigi Sarti, Guglielmo Trentin, Stefania Manca, and Manuela Delfino for the many conversations that clarified our thinking and for the friendship and professional collaboration that provided the ideal humus for organizing our ideas around this book, to the Institute director, Rosa Bottino, for her encouragement and, last but not least, to Giuliana Dettori, who graciously allowed us to take advantage of her great experience in book editing.

Finally, our gratitude goes to our husbands, Massimiliano and Beppe, and our children, Riccardo, Matteo and Silvia, for their patience and forbearance (and also for their gentle, occasional reminders of their existence!) whilst we have spent so many hours working on this book.

We hope the end result does not let all of these people down, and of course the readers, too!

Francesca Pozzi
Institute for Educational Technology of the Italian National Research Council, Italy

Donatella Persico
Institute for Educational Technology of the Italian National Research Council, Italy