Acknowledgment

We are grateful to many people who have contributed to this book. First and foremost, to the contributing authors: their effort and goodwill have been invaluable. Our gratitude also extends to the army of reviewers who took on their tasks with dedication and enthusiasm. Closer to home, we would like to acknowledge the support of the Centre for Informatics and Applied Optimisation at the University of Ballarat. The determination and tolerance shown by Yve Rowe, Priscilla Clark and Nadine Gass in helping to prepare the book for publication has been exemplary.
