Table of Contents

Foreword ........................................................................................................................................... xvii
Preface ................................................................................................................................................ xix
Acknowledgment ............................................................................................................................. xxv

Section 1
Introducing Ethics and Games

Chapter 1
Quick Takes on Ethics and Games: Voices from Industry and Academia ........................................ 1
  Mia Consalvo, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA
  Greg Costikyan, Independent, USA
  Drew Davidson, Carnegie Mellon University, USA
  Nick Fortugno, Playmatics, USA
  David Shaenfield, Columbia University, USA
  Pete Vigeant, ESI Design, USA
  Christopher Weaver, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Founder, Bethesda Softworks, USA
  Karen Schrier, Columbia University, USA

Chapter 2
Ethical Reasoning and Reflection as Supported by Single-Player Videogames ................................ 19
  Jose P. Zagal, DePaul University, USA

Chapter 3
A Framework for Classification and Criticism of Ethical Games ................................................... 36
  Jamey Stevenson, Realtime Worlds, UK
Section 2
Game Design Critiques

Chapter 4
The Axis of Good and Evil ................................................................. 57
Jonathan Melenson, Aptify, USA

Chapter 5
Ethical Dilemmas in Gameplay: Choosing Between Right and Right .................. 72
Ian Schreiber, Independent, USA
Bryan Cash, Schell Games, USA
Link Hughes, CCP Games, USA

Chapter 6
War and Play: Insensitivity and Humanity in the Realm of Pushbutton Warfare .......... 83
Devin Monnens, International Game Developers Association Game Preservation Special Interest Group, USA

Chapter 7
God of War: What is it Good For? Nietzsche’s “Master Morality” and the Single-Player Action/Adventure Genre ................................................................. 98
Peter Rauch, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA

Section 3
Design, Production, and Use of Games

Chapter 8
The Ethics of Reverse Engineering for Game Technology .................................. 110
David I. Schwartz, Rochester Institute of Technology, USA
Jessica D. Bayliss, Rochester Institute of Technology, USA

Chapter 9
Critical Gameplay: Design Techniques and Case Studies .................................. 128
Lindsay Grace, Miami University, USA

Chapter 10
How Games Can Touch You: Ethics of the Videogame Controller ...................... 142
Mitu Khandaker, University of Portsmouth, UK

Chapter 11
Toward an Ethic of Representation: Ethics and the Representation of Marginalized Groups in Videogames ................................................................. 159
Adrienne Shaw, University of Pennsylvania, USA
Section 4
Designing for Learning and Development

Chapter 12
The New Backyard: Social and Moral Development in Virtual Worlds........................................ 179
Nathan G. Freier, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, USA
Emilie T. Saulnier, 1st Playable Productions, USA

Chapter 13
Teaching Executive Functions, Self-Management, and Ethical Decision-Making through Popular Videogame Play ............................................................................................................. 193
Randy Kulman, LearningWorks for Kids, USA
Gary Stoner, University of Rhode Island, USA
Louis Ruffolo, University of Rhode Island, USA
Stephanie Marshall, University of Rhode Island, USA
Jennifer Slater, University of Rhode Island, USA
Amanda Dyl, University of Rhode Island, USA
Alice Cheng, University of Rhode Island, USA

Chapter 14
Fostering Character Education with Games and Interactive Story Generation................................. 208
Rania Hodhod, University of York, UK
Paul Cairns, University of York, UK
Daniel Kudenko, University of York, UK

Chapter 15
Leveraging Digital Games for Moral Development in Education: A Practitioner’s Reflection .......... 234
Ross FitzGerald, Shady Hill School, USA
Jennifer Groff, Futurelab, UK

Section 5
Designing for Social Change and Civic Engagement

Chapter 16
Power to the People: Anti-Oppressive Game Design ........................................................................ 253
Andrea Gunraj, The Metropolitan Action Committee on Violence Against Women and Children, Canada
Susana Ruiz, University of Southern California & Take Action Games, USA
Ashley York, University of Southern California & Take Action Games, USA