Acknowledgment

Readers of this case book will benefit greatly from the valued contribution of authors from different spheres of developing countries; it is immeasurable. We are particularly grateful for the input of the anonymous reviewers of the chapters for their time and expertise. It takes more than editors to complete a book project like this one, without the guidance, support, and encouragement of IGI staff, particularly Berth Ardner and Hannah Abelbeck, completion would have been impossible. It is not possible to mention all people who contributed in their own special way, but certainly “Se tshwarwa ke ntsa pedi ga se thata” (teamwork is strength).
