Table of Contents

Preface .......................................................................................................................... xix

Chapter 1
Factors Influencing Students Intention to Take Web-Based Courses in a College Environment ........ 1
  Hamid Nemati, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, USA
  Marcia Thompson, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, USA

Chapter 2
Computer-Mediated Communication that Brings Learning into the Present: Gender Differences in Status Differentials and Self-Disclosure in Online Peer Teaching ................................................. 12
  Linda Seward, Middle Tennessee State University, USA
  Vickie Harvey, California State University, USA
  Joseph Carranza, California State University, USA

Chapter 3
Using the Social Web Environment for Software Engineering Education .................................... 23
  Pankaj Kamthan, Concordia University, Canada

Chapter 4
Girls and Computers - Yes We Can! A Case Study on Improving Female Computer Confidence and Decreasing Gender Inequity in Computer Science with an Informal, Female Learning Community .......................................................................................... 46
  Misook Heo, Duquesne University, USA
  L. Monique Spradley-Myrick, Florida State University, USA

Chapter 5
Reflective On-Line Discourse for Pre-Service Teachers .......................................................... 64
  E. Gregory Holdan, Robert Morris University, USA
  Mary Hansen, Robert Morris University, USA
Chapter 6
The Effects of Web-Enabled Self-Regulated Learning and Problem-Based Learning with Initiation on Students’ Computing Skills................................................................. 76
   Pei-Di Shen, Ming Chuan University, Taiwan

Chapter 7
Brain Based Learning Environments in an Online Setting....................................................... 90
   Silvia L.v Braidic, California University of Pennsylvania, USA

Chapter 8
The Professional Development School: A Building Block for Training Public School Faculty on New Technologies.................................................................................................................. 99
   George Semich, Robert Morris University, USA
   Beatrice Gibbons, Robert Morris University, USA

Chapter 9
“Virtual Inquiry” in the Science Classroom: What is the Role of Technological Pedagogical Content Knowledge?.................................................................................................................. 109
   Eva Erdosne Toth, West Virginia University, USA

Chapter 10
Benchmarking Online Learning Practices in Higher Education: Software Selection, Teacher Preparation, and Course Evaluation ................................................................. 120
   Julie A. Ray, Robert Morris University, USA

Chapter 11
Technology: A Reflective Tool for Professional Development..................................................... 134
   Kim J. Hyatt, Duquesne University, USA

Chapter 12
Enhancement of TAPS Packages Using Tangible User Interface............................................. 143
   Manjit Singh Sidhu, Universiti Tenaga Nasional, Malaysia
   Waleed Maqableh, Universiti Tenaga Nasional, Malaysia

Chapter 13
ICT Integration Efforts in Higher Education in Developing Economies:
The Case of Addis Ababa University, Ethiopia ................................................................. 152
   Dawit Tibebu, Bahir Dar University, Ethiopia
   Tridib Bandyopadhyay, Kennesaw State University, USA
   Solomon Negash, Kennesaw State University, USA
Chapter 14
Collaboration between Academia and Industry: A Change in Approach............................................ 177
  J. McAvoy, University College Cork, Ireland
  E. Van Sickle, EMC Corporation, USA
  B. Cameron, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Chapter 15
Availability and Utilization of Classroom Computers across Urban and Rural Schools in Southwestern Nigeria...................................................................................................................... 189
  Sam E. O. Aduwa-Ogiegbaen, University of Benin, Nigeria
  Ede O. S. Iyamu, University of Benin, Nigeria

Chapter 16
Generating Motivation to Learn via Tailored Lesson Introductions............................................... 203
  Jennifer R. Banas, American College of Education, USA

Chapter 17
An Investigation on Course Characteristics that Fit Well with Online Offering ......................... 220
  Tim Klaus, Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi, USA
  Chuleeporn Changchit, Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi, USA

Chapter 18
Computer-Based Simulation in Blended Learning Curriculum for Hazardous Waste Site
Worker Health and Safety Training .................................................................................................... 230
  Cheryl West, University of Massachusetts Lowell, USA
  Craig Slatin, University of Massachusetts Lowell, USA
  Wayne Sanborn, University of Massachusetts Lowell, USA
  Beverly Volicer, University of Massachusetts Lowell, USA

Chapter 19
The Dragon in the School’s Backyard: A Review of Literature on the Uses of Technology in Urban Schools................................................................................................................................ 242
  Terry T. Kidd, University of Texas Health Science Center, USA

Chapter 20
Examining Technological Disparities and Instructional Practices in English
Language Arts Classroom: Implications for School Leadership and Teacher Training ..................... 258
  Holim Song, Texas Southern University, USA
  Terry T. Kidd, University of Texas Health Science Center, USA
  Emiel Owens, Texas Southern University, USA

Chapter 21
Teaching Advanced Computer Networking: A Miniproject-Based Learning Approach .................. 275
  Nurul I. Sarkar, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
  Krassie Petrova, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Chapter 22
Business Report Writing Students’ Perceptions of Their Ability to Succeed in an Online Environment vs. Students’ Performance in an Online Course ........................................290
Kelly Wilkinson, Indiana State University, USA
Tena B. Crews, University of South Carolina, USA

Chapter 23
Influences on Student Performance in a University Networks and Telecommunications Course ..........300
Robert G. Brookshire, University of South Carolina, USA
Tena B. Crews, University of South Carolina, USA
Herbert F. Brown III, Appalachian State University, USA

Chapter 24
Information and Communication Technology in China: Connecting One Billion People for Education .......................................................... 311
Xiaobin Li, Brock University, Canada
Yuxing Huang, Fujian Normal University, China
Xiayun Tang, Fujian Normal University, China

Chapter 25
Evolution by Evaluation ..................................................................................322
Cerstin Mahlow, University of Zurich, Switzerland
Michael Hess, University of Zurich, Switzerland
Sven Grund, University of Zurich, Switzerland

Chapter 26
Why Choose an Online Course? ........................................................................332
Lawrence A. Tomei, Robert Morris University, USA
April Kwiatkowski, Robert Morris University, USA
Lorie Brown, Robert Morris University, USA
Lori Pash, Robert Morris University, USA
Christine Javery, Southern New Hampshire University, USA
Julie Ray, Robert Morris University, USA
Rae Ann Durocher, Southern New Hampshire University, USA

Chapter 27
Do Orientation Materials Help Students Successfully Complete Online Courses? .....................345
Lawrence A. Tomei, Robert Morris University, USA
Holly Hagle, Robert Morris University, USA
Ashley Rineer, Robert Morris University, USA
Lisa A. Mastandrea, Robert Morris University, USA
Jennifer Scollon, Regis University, USA
Chapter 28
Information and Communication Technology in Chinese Elementary and Secondary Education:
Connecting Every Child for Better Learning........................................................................... 361
   Xiaobin Li, Brock University, Canada

Compilation of References ........................................................................................................ 374

About the Contributors ............................................................................................................. 420

Index........................................................................................................................................ 428