Table of Contents

Foreword.................................................................................................................................................. vii
Preface................................................................................................................................................... ix
Acknowledgment.................................................................................................................................... xiv

Chapter 1
Virtual Worlds for Children with Medical Conditions: Experiences for Promoting Positive Youth Development.......................................................................................................................... 1

*Marina U. Bers, Tufts University, USA
Kathryn A. Cantrell, Tufts University, USA*

Chapter 2
An E-Health System for Treatment of Childhood Obesity: The Etiobe Platform .............................. 24

*Rosa M. Baños, Universidad de Valencia, Spain
Ausiàs Cebolla, Universidad Jaume I, Spain
Elia Oliver, Universidad de Valencia, Spain
Soledad Quero Castellano, Universitat Jaume I, Spain
Cristina Botella, Universidad Jaume I, Spain*

Chapter 3
Internet-Based Chronic Disease Self-Management for Youth............................................................. 36

*Jennifer Stinson, The Hospital for Sick Children, Canada
Navreet Gill, The Hospital for Sick Children, Canada*

Chapter 4
An E-Health System for Promoting Wellbeing in the Elderly: The Butler System ............................ 57

*Cristina Botella, Universidad Jaume I, Spain
Rosa M. Baños, Universidad de Valencia, Spain
Ernestina Etchemendy, Universidad de Valencia, Spain
Diana Castilla, Universidad Jaume I, Spain
Azucena García-Palacios, Universidad Jaume I, Spain
Alcañiz Mariano, Universidad Politécnica de Valencia, Spain*
Chapter 5
Do Virtual Communities Have an Effect on the Social Network of Cancer Patients? Empirical Insights from Germany ................................................................. 72
Jan Marco Leimeister, Universität Kassel, Germany
Karin Janina Schweizer, Microsoft Deutschland GmbH, Germany
Helmut Krcmar, Technische Universität München, Germany

Chapter 6
A Content Analysis of an Online Support Group for Survivors of Sexual Violence ......................... 85
Jennifer Yeager, University of East London, UK & Waterford Institute of Technology, Ireland

Chapter 7
Blogging: A New Tool for Coping and Accessing Psycho-Social Support for People Living with HIV? ......................................................................................... 106
Cecilia Strand, Uppsala University, Sweden

Chapter 8
Can Stored Data Answer All Questions: A Study of Questions on Eating Disorders ......................... 121
Jacob Palme, Stockholm University, Sweden

Chapter 9
Dynamic Stress Management: Self-Help through Holistic System Design ..................................... 136
Äsa Smedberg, Stockholm University, Sweden
Hélène Sandmark, Mälardalen University, Sweden

Chapter 10
Living a Healthier Life – Online: On Blending Professional and Experiential Knowledge in Online Self-Help Groups ................................................................. 155
Roar Stokken, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway & Sunnmøre Hospital Trust, Norway
Gjermund Eikli, Norwegian Net School, Norway

Chapter 11
The Amazing Impossibilities of Technology: Factors that Inhibit Participation in Skype™ Based Self-Help Groups ................................................................. 177
Stein Conradsen, Sunnmøre Hospital Trust, Norway

Chapter 12
E-Health and Digital Inclusion ........................................................................................................ 194
Lorna Gibson, University of Dundee, UK
David Sloan, University of Dundee, UK
Wendy Moncur, University of Aberdeen, UK
Chapter 13
Online Health Communities and Health Literacy: Applying a Framework for Understanding
Domains of Health Literacy ........................................................................................................ 208
   Erin Willis, University of Memphis, USA
   Ye Wang, University of Missouri – Kansas City, USA
   Shelly Rodgers, Missouri School of Journalism, USA

Chapter 14
Identifying the Essential Design Requirements for Usable E-Health Communities in Mobile Devices ................................................................................................................................ 225
   Ricardo Mendoza-González, Instituto Tecnológico de Aguascalientes, Mexico
   Miguel Vargas Martin, University of Ontario Institute of Technology, Canada
   Laura C. Rodríguez-Martínez, Instituto Tecnológico de Aguascalientes, Mexico

Chapter 15
Australian Patient Organizations: Using Digital Technologies to Engage Health Citizen
Communities in Health Policy ........................................................................................................ 245
   Anni Dugdale, University of Canberra, Australia

Chapter 16
European E-Health Framework: Towards More “Patient-Friendly” Healthcare Services? .......... 262
   Korinna Zoi Karamagioli, Alexandra University Hospital, Greece
   Evika Karamagioli, Gov2u, Greece

Chapter 17
Developing Virtual Communities to Support Drug Policy Knowledge Exchange:
The Canadian Experience ................................................................................................................. 279
   Mowafa Househ, King Saud Bin Abdul Aziz University for Health Sciences, Saudi Arabia
   Andre Kushniruk, University of Victoria, Canada
   Malcolm Maclure, Harvard University, USA, University of Victoria, Canada & British Columbia
   Ministry of Health, Canada
   Bruce Carleton, University of British Columbia, Canada, Children’s and Women’s Health Centre of BC, Canada & Child & Family Research Institute, Canada
   Denise Cloutier-Fisher, University of Victoria, Canada

About the Contributors .................................................................................................................. 303

Index .................................................................................................................................................. 312