Acknowledgment

The editors would like to acknowledge the support and encouragement of the IGI Global Development Division team, as its help and patience have been indispensable. We would like to especially acknowledge the role and help of Mike Killian, Editorial Assistant, for his continual readiness to answer multiple questions and supply all the materials and templates required for the timely completion of this complex project.

It is well known that reviewers have a critical role for producing high quality books. The editors express their sincere gratitude to the reviewers of these chapters for their time, expertise, and highly valuable suggestions that, as we believe, significantly increased the value of the entire book.

Last but not least, no book can be produced without the support, encouragement and patience of loved ones. The lead editor (AK) would like to express his indebtedness to his wife, Rosa, and to his daughter, Julia, for their moral support and understanding during the long evenings and many weekends spent working on this book.
