Table of Contents

Preface................................................................................................................................................................. x

Acknowledgment.................................................................................................................................................. xiii

Section 1
Strategic ERP Framework and Methodologies for E-Government

Chapter 1
Government Process Reengineering: What we Know and What we Need to Know ............................... 1
Asmare Emerie Kassahun, RMIT University, Australia
Alemayehu Molla, RMIT University, Australia
Pradipta Sarkar, RMIT University, Australia

Chapter 2
ERP Implementation Model, Research Findings, and its Applications to Government ......................... 25
Girish H. Subramanian, Penn State University at Harrisburg, USA
Alan R. Peslak, Penn State University, USA

Chapter 3
E-Government Management Practice: Enterprise Resource Planning ............................................... 40
John Douglas Thomson, RMIT University, Australia

Chapter 4
How ERP Systems are Centralizing and Standardizing the Accounting Function in Public
Organizations for Better and Worse .................................................................................................................. 55
Catherine Equey Balzli, University of Applied Sciences, Switzerland
Emmanuel Fragnière, University of Applied Sciences, Switzerland

Chapter 5
The Didactic Approach to Manage Strategic Inconsistencies in ERP: An E-Initiative .................... 73
Sangeeta Sharma, University of Rajasthan, India
Chapter 6
E-Government Citizen Centric Framework at District Level in India: A Case Study ................. 90
Sasheel Chhabra, Lal Bahadur Shastri Institute of Management, India
D. N. Gupta, Government of Orissa, India

Section 2
ERP Processes and Applications for E-Government

Chapter 7
Architecture for ERP System Integration with Heterogeneous E-Government Modules ............... 102
Lars Frank, Copenhagen Business School, Denmark

Chapter 8
Customer Relationship Management Adoption in Local Governments in the United States ........... 111
Christopher G. Reddick, The University of Texas, USA

Chapter 9
E-Governance at the Grass Roots: Observations at the SAARC Perspective ......................... 125
Hakikur Rahman, SchoolNet Foundation, Bangladesh

Chapter 10
Evaluating Web Sites of Municipal Corporations: A Case Study of Leading Cities in India ........... 143
Muneesh Kumar, University of Delhi South Campus, India
Mamta Sareen, University of Delhi, India

Chapter 11
Information Security Threats in ERP Enabled E-Governance: Challenges and Solutions ............... 158
Geetanjali Sahi, Lal Bahadur Shastri Institute of Management, India
Sushila Madan, University of Delhi, India

Compilation of References .............................................................................................................. 171

About the Contributors ....................................................................................................................... 190

Index .................................................................................................................................................... 194