Table of Contents

Foreword .................................................................................................................................................. ix

Preface .................................................................................................................................................... xi

Section 1
Enhancing Pedagogy through Digital Technologies

Chapter 1
Enhancing Pedagogy with mLearning ................................................................................................. 1
Damon Thomas, University of Tasmania, Australia
Angela Thomas, University of Tasmania, Australia
Andrew Fluck, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 2
Digital Technologies: Enhancing Pedagogy and Extending Opportunities for Learning in Senior
Secondary Physical Education? ............................................................................................................. 15
Dawn Penney, University of Waikato, New Zealand & Edith Cowan University, Australia
Paul Newhouse, Edith Cowan University, Australia
Andrew Jones, Edith Cowan University, Australia
Alistair Campbell, Edith Cowan University, Australia

Chapter 3
Technology-Enhanced Learning: The Introduction and Use of Information and Communication
Technology in Special Education ............................................................................................................ 27
Adrian F. Ashman, The University of Queensland, Australia

Chapter 4
Using Prediction Markets to Deliver Authentic Learning Experiences .................................................. 42
Patrick Buckley, University of Limerick, Ireland
John Garvey, University of Limerick, Ireland
Fergal McGrath, University of Limerick, Ireland

Chapter 5
New Challenges in Web-Based Education ............................................................................................ 58
Quynh Lê, University of Tasmania, Australia
Mark Lê, Latrobe University, Australia
Chapter 6
Online Facilitator Strategies of Professors Rated as Providing Different Levels of Support .......................... 66
   Barbara Signer, St. John’s University, USA
   Amanda McCluskey Prieto, Rutgers Business School, USA
   Margot Ely, New York University, USA

Chapter 7
Technology Empowerment and the Deployment of Netbooks in Education ........................................ 80
   Tom S. Chan, Southern New Hampshire University, USA
   J. Stephanie Collins, Southern New Hampshire University, USA
   Shahriar Movafaghi, Southern New Hampshire University, USA

Chapter 8
Investigating Higher Education and Secondary School Web-Based Learning Environments Using the WEBLEI ................................................................. 93
   Vinesh Chandra, Queensland University of Technology, Australia
   Darrell Fisher, Curtin University, Australia
   Vanessa Chang, Curtin University, Australia

Chapter 9
Digital Learning Environments and Student-Centered Curriculum in a University Context ............. 105
   Sevinç Gülseçen, Istanbul University, Turkey

Chapter 10
Creating an Environment for Pre-Service Teachers to Develop Technical Pedagogical and Content Knowledge ................................................................. 115
   Chun Hu, University of Sydney, Australia

Chapter 11
MyLO: Collaborative Learning through Web-Based Courseware Applications ................................ 129
   Si Fan, University of Tasmania, Australia
   Quynh Lê, University of Tasmania, Australia
   Yun Yue, University of Tasmania, Australia

Section 2
Engagement and Empowerment: Social and Cultural Dimensions

Chapter 12
Privacy Concerns in Social Network Sites ................................................................................................. 139
   Arda Arikan, Akdeniz University, Turkey

Chapter 13
Participatory Culture, New Media, and Civic Engagement: A Generation Who Dares to Hope ....... 147
   Sibylle Gruber, Northern Arizona University, USA
Chapter 14
ICT in Vietnamese Education: Development and Challenges ................................................................. 160
  Hoang Boi Nguyen, University of Tasmania, Australia
  Thao Lê, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 15
Intercultural Awareness in E-Learning ........................................................................................................ 172
  Eunice Luyegu, Franklin University, USA

Chapter 16
Implications of ICT for Society and Individual............................................................................................ 183
  Mahan Ranjbar, University of Western Sydney, Australia
  Abbass Ghanbary, Consensus Advantage, Australia

Chapter 17
Empowering Students in Computer-Supported Education........................................................................... 198
  Yongming Shi, University of Tasmania, Australia
  Si Fan, University of Tasmania, Australia
  Yun Yue, University of Tasmania, Australia

Section 3
Evaluative and Reflective Aspects

Chapter 18
Mixed Realities: Human Interaction Technologies ...................................................................................... 209
  Daniel Rolf, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 19
Web-Based Learning: Status Quo and Trend.................................................................................................. 217
  Si Fan, University of Tasmania, Australia
  Quynh Lê, University of Tasmania, Australia

Chapter 20
Student Engagement with Technology: So, What’s it Got to Do with Learning? ........................................ 231
  Garry Falloon, University of Waikato, New Zealand

Chapter 21
Web Conferencing and Remote Laboratories as Part of Blended Learning in Engineering and Science: A Paradigm Shift in Education or More of the Same? ........................................................ 246
  Steve Mackay, Curtin University, Australia
  Darrell Fisher, Curtin University, Australia
Chapter 22
Evaluating Educational Software: A Historical Overview and the Challenges Ahead.......................... 264
Michelle M. Mukherjee, Queensland University of Technology, Australia

Chapter 23
Accessibility Issues of Educational Web Sites.................................................................................. 277
Serhat Kurt, Ataturk University, Turkey

Chapter 24
Is All that Glitters Gold? Re-Thinking E-Learning and Education Revolutions............................... 287
Matthew Piscioneri, Monash University, Australia

Chapter 25
ICT in Higher Education: Evaluative Views of Teachers and Students........................................ 300
Yang Yang, University of Tasmania, Australia
Hoang Boi Nguyen, University of Tasmania, Australia
Sun Hee Jang, University of Tasmania, Australia

About the Contributors.................................................................................................................. 309

Index................................................................................................................................................... 316