Acknowledgment

This book is dedicated to my mother, Joyce Ferris, who was a constant presence as this book developed. Although she could not see the book’s completion, she is still with me.

Thanks also to my ever-supportive family. Jakers and Shayleigh are the best examples of the Net Generation anyone could want! Brian gave me lots of time and space to work and kept me in touch with the real world.

An edited book entails complex processes: of researching themes, seeking submissions, working with authors, setting up and coordinating peer reviews – all of which take place unacknowledged. So thanks to all who participated in these processes – colleagues and friends who helped post the Call, conference attendees who spread the word, all those who submitted proposals, even those not accepted.

This book could not have been completed without the reviewers who gave so generously of their time and effort. Special thanks go to super-reviewers Kelli Jean Smith, Kathleen Woods and Maureen Minielli – professional, prompt, and above all, friends whose value goes far beyond this simple acknowledgement can recognize.

Thanks also to the following who shared their expertise by blind-reviewing chapters: Rukhsana Ahmed, Simon Atkinson, Shannan Butler, Ryan Curtis, Ben DaCosta, Scott D’Urso, Susanne Croasdaile, Maureen Ebben, Bill Gibbs, Carrie Hong, Martin Guardado, Jim Gleason, Gerry Mongillo, Yuping Mao, Kevin Meyer, Keri Stephens, Charles Ruddick, and Hilary Wilder.

Finally, thanks go to my editor, Hannah Abelbeck from IGI Global, whose prompt responses and excellent guidance smoothed the path of this book.
