Acknowledgment

A research handbook is never an individual effort of the authors or editors. There are several other people involved who spent quite some time on reviewing papers, formatting material, and supporting the authors and editors. Many thanks are due.

We would like to thank Mike Killian from IGI Global in helping and pushing us towards finalizing this project.

The experts of the editorial advisory board provided feedback and led us into the – hopefully – right direction. Thanks to Brian, Flavio, Ioan, Justin, Peer, and Schahram.

Special thanks go to all the authors who contributed chapters to this book. We know that it was sometimes painful to reply to our requests: You all are the real heroes of this book.

Mike, thanks for the honest foreword, we really appreciate it. It also made us see that producing the book is a worthwhile endeavour, something that can easily get lost in dealing with copyright forms and formats of chapters!

The reviewers of all the chapters of this book and their constructive feedback needs to be acknowledged: you allowed the authors to produce contributions that stand up to academic rigour.

Last but not least, a word of gratitude to our families and friends for all their patience while waiting for this endeavour to come to its conclusion.

Stephan Reiff-Marganiec
University of Leicester, UK

Marcel Tilly
European Microsoft Innovation Center, Germany